1915 ...	XV	The Inland Steam-Vessels (Amendment) Act, 1915.	The whole Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. This is a pure consolidating Bill. The Inland Steam-Vessels Act, 1884 (VI of 1884), has been amended by no less than seven Acts, and three of these amending Acts have again been amended by other Acts. The object of the present Bill is to collect the provisions relating to inland steam-vessels which are scattered about in several Acts, and to incorporate them in one Act without making any change of substance in the law as it now stands The result will be that the law will be more easily ascertainable, that one Act will take the place of four on the Statute-book, and that provisions relating to inland steam-vessels now to be found in six other Acts will be omitted therefrom.

2. The fact that the General Clauses Act, 1897 (X of 1897), will apply to the Bill when passed has rendered it unnecessary to retain some provisions of the Act of 1884. The opportunity has been taken to incorporate alterations of a formal character with a view to improve the language, as well as the arrangement of the sections of the existing Act. The repealing and saving clause is placed at the end.

3. The more important of the alterations made are explained in the Notes on Clauses and in the appended Table showing the disposal of sections of the Act of 1884 as amended up to date.

The 13th September 1916. G. R. LOWNDES.

Notes on Clauses.

Clause 9 (2) recasts section 11 (1) of the Act so as to make it clear to whom applications for certificates of survey should be made, and provides that the Local Government is to fix the actual amount of any penalty payable under clause 8 (2) [see s. 10 (2) of the Act].

Clause 12 provides for the renewal of certificates of survey. There is no specific provision in Act VI of 1884 for the renewal of such certificates, but such a provision is clearly implied by the provisions of sections 6 (2) and 21 (c) of the Act.

Clause 13 (c).—It is thought that the reference to " injury " to the hull, boilers, engines and equipments of inland steam-vessels in section 15 (c) of the Act should, on a proper construction of the section, be taken to mean " material injury." This has accordingly been made clear by inserting the word " material ".

Clause 21 Proviso—reproduces section 25, but the reference to the examination report has been expanded so as to cover a defective report. The reference to testimonials and character has been omitted, as they presumably form part of the qualifications with which the examination deals [see clause 29 (2) (b)].

Clause 42.—In view of the provisions of section 36 (2) of the Act [see clause 37 (3) of the Bill], it would seem to be intended that the written opinions of assessors should be forwarded by the Court to the Local Government, together with the other proceedings relating to an investigation, and this has been expressly provided for by the clause.

Clause 73.—Doubts have been expressed as to whether the provisions of the Act can legally be applied to vessels propelled by mechanical power (other than steam-vessels) except under a notification issued under section 68-A. It is proposed to make it quite clear that the provisions of the Bill shall apply to such vessels, as well as to steam-vessels, but that the Governor General in Council will, in the case of the former, have the power merely to modify those provisions for the purposes of adaptation.

Clause 74 (1) takes the place of the provisions of section 69 regarding "previous publication" [cf. s. 23, General Clauses Act, 1897]. The clause does not, however, reproduce the provisions of section 69 (2) under which the "previous publication" is to be made in such manner as may be notified by the Governor General in Council. It is considered that this, being a minor matter of procedure, may well be left to the Local Government which would have power under section 23 (2) of the General Clauses Act to prescribe the manner in which rules made by itself are to be "previously" published.

Clause 74 (2)—It is considered desirable that rules made by the Local Government after previous publication should be published in the local official gazette, and should have the force of law. It has been usual to insert a similar provision in nearly all Acts passed in recent years by the Indian Legislature. Moreover, publication in the local official gazette was required by section 69 (5) in the case of all rules before that section was amended by Act XV of 1915.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1916-17.

(NOTE:—On the average of the five years ending 1914-15, the area under winter rice in Bengal represents some 19·8 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the Season.—In the months of February and March the rainfall was very inadequate for the ploughing of fields for the winter rice crop. The rainfall in April, however, was sufficient and facilitated the sowings of the broadcast paddy. This was again followed by defective rainfall in May and the broadcasted variety suffered to some extent consequently. In June, general rain fell throughout the Province and transplanting commenced at the usual time. The progress of the operation, however, was somewhat retarded in some of the western districts owing to insufficiency of rain in July, when, on the other hand, the excessive rainfall and floods in the northern districts caused some damage to the crop on low land in places. The rainfall in August greatly helped the growth of the standing crop. On the whole the season has been favourable.

Acreage.—According to the figures reported by the District Officers, the area sown this year is 15,492,100 acres against 14,974,000 and 15,105,100 acres shown in the last year's first and final forecasts respectively. The increase in area is chiefly due to comparatively favourable weather during the transplanting period.

Outturn.—From the appendix attached to the report it will be seen that only one district, viz., Bankura, reports more than a normal crop, i.e., 108 per cent. Eleven districts report a normal crop; eight districts a crop between 80 and 94 and six districts a crop between 66 and 75 per cent. The district of the Chittagong Hill Tracts only reports a crop as low as 50 per cent. The low outturn in some cases is chiefly due to deficient rainfall at sowing time which unfavourably affected the growth of the crop.

According to the District Officers' estimates, the provincial outturn works out to 92 per cent. against 87 and 97 per cent. shown, respectively, in the first and final forecasts of last year

	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas ...	895,700	789,300	823,700	117	100	April. Normal ...	June. Normal ...	The increase is due partly to more area being brought under cultivation by clearance of jungle in the Diamond Harbour subdivision and partly to favourable weather during the time of sowing. The weather was favourable; but heavy rains during the latter part of August to some extent damaged the crop on low lands. Some damage has also been caused by flood in the Diamond Harbour subdivision.
Nadia	136,800	123,900	116,900	67	67	April to middle of June. Normal, but late in some places.	June to August Normal, but late in some places.	The decrease in area sown this year is due to want of rain at the sowing time. Transplantation was retarded also for want of rain. The recent rain has improved the condition of the crop to some extent. The outturn is expected to fall below the normal for want of timely rainfall.
Murshidabad ...	345,600	322,300	301,500	75	75	June. Late	June to August. Late	The decrease in area this year is due to insufficient rainfall in the greater portion of the district at the time of sowing and transplantation. The weather condition was not favourable at the time of sowing but has improved a little since then. About 25 per cent. of the crop has been damaged by drought.
Jessore ...	568,100	463,900	455,500	92	75	April. Normal but late in Bongaon subdivision.	July and August normal, but late in Bongaon and Narail subdivision.	The decrease in area this year is due to want of rainfall at the time of sowing and transplantation. The growth of the crop was affected a little owing to insufficient rainfall. About 25 per cent. of the crop has also been damaged by flood and insect-pests. Hence the outturn is expected to fall below the normal.
Khulna ...	745,300	749,300	747,600	123	100	End of April to 1st week of June. Normal.	July. Normal ...	The decrease in area sown this year is due to deficient rainfall at the time of sowing. The weather condition was not favourable at the time of sowing but has improved since then. The outturn is expected to be normal.
Burdwan ...	874,800	520,000	577,000	67	75	End of June. Late ...	July. Late ...	The increase in area sown this year is due to favourable rainfall in August. The weather condition was not favourable at the sowing time but since August it has been quite good. Transplantation has been delayed on account of deficient rainfall in June and July. The effect of weather on the growth of the crop was unfavourable in Katwa and Kalna but favourable in Sadar and Asansol. Some damage has been done to the crop by drought and insect-pests in the Kalna, Katwa and Asansol subdivisions. The late transplantation and drought till July account for the low outturn.
Birbhum ...	604,600	573,000	595,000	83	100	No broad-cast sowing in this district.	Beginning of July. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of last year is due to favourable rainfall. Effects of the weather on the cultivation and growth of the crop have been good.

Bankura ...	510,000	171,000	510,600	42	108	Beginning of June. Normal.	Middle of July. Normal.	The increase in area sown this year is due to timely rainfall. The weather conditions have been favourable for the growth of the crop. Hence the outturn is expected to be above the normal.
Midnapore ...	1,579,400	1,556,000	1,6[illegible]	101	85	......	July. Normal ...	An increase in area is reported from the Sadar subdivision only. Untimely heavy showers caused some damage to the seedlings. After that there was a long spell of drought which retarded transplantation and affected the growth of the crop on high lands already transplanted. This was however followed by a general rainfall which saved the situation. The outturn is estimated to fall below the normal by 15 per cent.
Hooghly ...	276,700	227,900	204,900	82	66	End of June. Late.	End of July. Late.	The decrease in area sown this year is due to want of rainfall at the sowing time. The weather condition has not been favourable. Some damage was caused to the crop by drought. The outturn is expected to fall below the normal.
Howrah ...	125,200	111,700	109,300	108	75	End of May in Sadar normal. Middle of June in Uluberia late.	Middle of August. Late.	The decrease in area as compared with that of last year is due to want of rainfall at sowing time. The weather condition was not favourable at the sowing time but at present it is favourable. The outturn is expected to fall below the normal owing to want of timely rainfall at the beginning.
Rajshahi ...	697,000	565,200	566,300	90	85	End of April. Normal.	First part of July. Normal.	The weather condition was not favourable at the time of sowing but has improved since then. Some damage was caused by flood in the Natore subdivision. Hence the outturn is expected to fall below the normal.
Dinajpur ...	1,120,300	1,034,900	1,057,800	106	93	.....	First part of July. Normal.	The increase in area is due to extension of cultivation. The weather condition has been favourable for the growth of the crops. Slight damage has been caused to the crops on low lands by excessive rainfall. Hence the outturn is expected to fall below the normal.
Jalpaiguri ...	551,300	510,400	482,000	102	94	Beginning of May. Normal.	Beginning of July. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to excessive rainfall for which low lands could not be utilised. The weather condition has been favourable in all parts of the district except in Baikunthapur and Chaklajat estates where excessive rainfall has affected the growth of the crop. Some damage has also been caused in the south west of the district by excessive rainfall. Hence the outturn is expected to be below the normal.
Darjeeling ...	65,200	38,200	38,200	92	100	1st week of May. Normal.	Middle of July. Normal.	The weather condition has been favourable for the growth of the crop.
Rangpur ...	822,800	800,900	725,000	101	100	May. Normal ...	June and still going on in places. Late.	The decrease in area as compared with that of last year is due to want of rainfall at the sowing time. The subsequent weather conditions have been good except that the rainfall in July and August caused slight damage to the crop. The outturn is estimated to be normal.

Dacca	633,100	592,600	633,600	76	92	April. Normal ...	Second week of July. Normal.	The increase in area is due to the transplantation of paddy in the jute fields, the water having receded earlier this year. Just after sowing there was a dearth of rain, but since the last week of May the crop has improved considerably on account of intermittent rainfall. Some damage has been done to the crop in the Narayanganj subdivision by insects and considerable damage has been done to the broadcasted variety by the Jamuna flood in the norther part of the district. The extent of the damage done by the flood may be estimated to be 15 per cent. of the total area under winter rice in the district. The outturn in other parts of the district is quite hopeful. The transplanted variety is expected to yield a bumper crop.

The weather conditions have been favourable except in Pirojpur subdivision, where some damage to the seedlings has been caused by flood in July. Heavy rainfall in Bhola subdivision has retarded the transplantation. Slight damage has also been caused by insect-pests in Sadar subdivision and by floods in Pirojpur. A normal outturn is however expected.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Second Forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1916-17.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1914-15, the area under the Cotton Crops in Bengal represents some 0·2 per cent. of the total area under Cotton in India.)

Character of the season.—Early cotton is grown in the districts of Bankura, Midnapore, Mymensingh, the Chittagong Hill Tracts, and in the State of Hill Tippera, and late cotton is grown in the former two districts only. At the sowing time of the early crop, the weather conditions were not quite favourable, particularly in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. But since the issue of the first forecast, the conditions are reported to have been more favourable to the growth of the crop in Bankura, and the present condition in the other districts is also reported to be fairly satisfactory except in places in Hill Tippera, where a poor outturn is apprehended owing to insufficiency of rain in the earlier stages.

The late crop has not yet been sown in Bankura, but in Midnapore the condition is reported to be fair.

Area sown.—The area sown with early cotton is reported to be 70,806 acres against 85,698 acres estimated in the corresponding forecast of last year. The decrease in area is due to unfavourable weather conditions at sowing time.

Of the late crop, 700 acres are estimated to have been sown up to date against the same estimate reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

CALCUTTA,

REPORT ON FAMINE IN BANKURA DISTRICT FOR THE WEEK ENDING THE 23RD SEPTEMBER 1916.

In Bankura District some damage has been done to the autumn paddy by storm, but none to the winter paddy is reported. The prospects are good. The relief measures are adequate. The condition of people on the relief-works is generally good. Clothing is being distributed to indigent persons. Private charitable institutions are giving relief. Prices are stationary. The price of rice is 8¾ seers per rupee. The number of persons on the relief-works was 20,371, and in receipt of gratuitous relief 20,295, total 40,666. The gradual rise in the number of persons on the relief-works is due to decreasing demand for labour owing to the completion of transplantation. One thousand eight hundred and sixty-four persons were relieved on private works.

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 2nd October 1916.

Summary.—The rainfall during the week was generally light to moderate. Transplantation of winter rice is nearly completed and weeding is going on briskly. Harvesting of autumn rice has been over and that of jute is in brisk progress. Some damage to the standing crops due to recent flood is reported from Murshidabad, Burdwan, Birbhum, Midnapore and Dacca. The damage in Birbhum and Burdwan is reported to be severe owing to considerable areas of paddy lands having been silted up with sand, and measures are being taken for the distribution of gratuitous relief and agricultural loans in the tracts affected. Cattle-disease is reported from four districts only. The average price of common rice for the province has a slight tendency to fall as compared with that of the previous week.

LONDON GAZETTE.

No. 1157.—The following is published for general information :—

Supplement dated the 2nd August 1916, to the London Gazette of the 1st August 1916, pages 7631 to 7634.

War Office,
2nd August 1916.

The Colonial Office has forwarded for publication the following despatch on military operations in the Somaliland Protectorate :—

From—H. M. Commissioner and Commander-in-Chief,
Somaliland Protectorate,

To—The Secretary of State for the Colonies.

The Residency, Berbera,
20th February 1915.

SIR,—I have the honour to transmit a report by the Officer Commanding the Troops, Somaliland Protectorate, on the recent military operations against the dervishes at Shimber Berris, at the head of the A in Valley.

2. It will be recollected that after the action at Dul Madoba in August 1913, the Mullah Mahomed ibn Abdulla Hassan sent his followers to occupy and erect forts at this spot, whence they could dominate the country providing the chief grazing grounds of our friendlies. Raids against our tribes were of frequent occurrence, and the operations under review were undertaken to drive out the dervishes from this locality.

3. Shimber Berris is a natural stronghold in the Burdab range, and it had been strongly fortified. Six double-storied block-houses had been erected in well-chosen positions by Yemeni Arab masons in the service of the Mullah. The walls were found to be of stone and mud plaster, some twenty feet high, twelve feet thick at the base and six feet thick at the top. Considerable military skill had been employed in construction, and the surrounding bush had been cleared to provide a good field of fire. The sides of the ravine, moreover, were honey-combed with caves affording a safe retreat for the enemy after being driven from the forts. Without modern field guns operations here involved considerable difficulties, and that they were brought to a completely successful conclusion is in consequence all the more gratifying.

4. A full account of the sharp fighting which occurred is given by Lieutenant-Colonel T. Astley Cubitt, D.S.O., in his report. On the first occasion, in November, it was found impossible to rush the main fort on the top of the escarpment, but a feature of the attack was the thrice-repeated charge of a company of the Camel Corps right up to the very walls of the fort, which was a gallant performance, reflecting great credit on officers and men. In one of these charges Captain Symons, King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry, was killed when within a yard of the door, and Captain Carton de Wiart, 4th Dragoon Guards, was severely wounded. Other officers present attempted to batter down the door, and the men fired on the dervishes inside the fort through the loopholes. But the place was too strong and the action had to be broken off. The attack was renewed four days later, and with the assistance of an old seven-pounder gun brought up hurriedly from Burao the position was then successfully carried. The dervishes were dislodged from the forts more by the moral effect of the shelling than by any material damage done, and fleeing down the hillsides to the caves they came under heavy Maxim fire. Unfortunately, owing to lack of time and the absence of explosives, it was impossible to destroy the forts completely, and subsequently the dervishes returned.

5. Further military operations were thus necessitated, and it was hoped to clear up the situation this time once and for all. The General Officer Commanding at Aden placed at my disposal a small detachment of the 23rd Pioneers, and a column, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Cubitt, consisting of 15 officers, 570 rank and file (Indians and Somalis), six machine guns, and two seven-pounders, left Burao on the 1st February. I myself accompanied the column, and was present during the ensuing fighting. Speaking from personal observation, therefore I can say that the whole undertaking was admirably planned and admirably executed. The forts on this occasion were completely demolished by guncotton, and the dervishes were driven out, leaving 32 dead in the caves alone. From beginning to end there was no hitch of any sort, and it was due to capable handling by the Commanding Officer and his staff, and excellent leading by the company commanders, that the casualty list was kept as low as it was. The behaviour also of the rank and file—Pioneers, Indian contingent, and Somali Camel Constabulary—left nothing to be desired, and great credit is due to all officers and men alike. The fighting on the 4th February lasted for over five hours. The position in the ravine occupied by the dervishes was an extremely formidable one, and from the caves and inner fort they offered a desparate resistance, though not present in any great numerical strength. It is proved beyond dispute that the dervish of to-day is still a first-class fighter, and even when cornered he remains fanatically defiant to the end. During the two periods our casualties amounted to one British officer killed and five wounded (two severely and three slightly); four native rank and file killed and 25 wounded; and four tribal auxiliaries killed and ten wounded. It is impossible accurately to estimate the dervish losses, but they certainly had over 70 in killed alone. The main value of the operations, however, lies in the moral effect.

6. By the destruction of his forts at Shimber Berris and the routing of his followers the Mullah has undoubtedly sustained a severe blow and his prestige is badly damaged. It is clear, moreover, that this success will be of inestimable value to a young corps, imbuing our Somali troops with confidence in themselves and in their officers; while the moral effect produced on the minds of the friendlies is, of course, excellent. I consider the operations under review, therefore, not only extremely successful in themselves, but very important in their general bearings on the country, and I desire to bring to your personal notice, for some special mark of recognition, the good services of Colonel Cubitt. I also desire to put forward, for military reward, the names of the following officers, native officers, non-commissioned officers and men :—

* * * * * *

Captain H. C. Dobbs, 124th Duchess of Connaught's Own Baluchistan Infantry, brought a gun into action on the 23rd November within sixty yards of a fort, under a hot fire, and conducted a flank attack with success. During the past few years this officer has commanded the Indian contingent in Somaliland with marked a[illegible]

No. 4392 Naik Sher [illegible] 23rd Sikh Pioneers, for bravery on the 4th February. In [illegible] ton against the door of a fort, under a hot fire fro[illegible] and stunned; but, collecting himself, he returned [illegible] the charge.

No [illegible] Havildar [illegible] Sikh Pioneers, followed Sher Singh, [illegible] large cooly [illegible] correctly, and fired the charge, also [illegible] fire.

Jemadar Feroze Khan, Indian contingent and 56th Punjabi Rifles, displayed creat activity and driving power in marching his column from Burao to Little Bohotleh, and a high degree of military knowledge both in the measures taken for the security of his column and in the handling of a platoon during the attack on the forts on the 23rd November.

No. 293 Naik (local Havildar) Shan Khan, Indian contingent and 76th Punjabis, was in charge of the gun that came into action on the 23rd November within sixty yards of a fort under a hot fire. He also distinguished himself after Dul Madoba in August 1913.

* * * * * * *

The following officers, non-commissioned officers and men also distinguished themselves, and are deserving of mention :—

Captain W. A. H. Bird, 23rd Sikh Pioneers, displayed great skill in the demolition of the forts, on one occasion under a hot fire at close range.

* * * * * * *

Lieutenant C. A. L. Howard, 32nd Lancers, displayed considerable courage in throwing hand grenades into caves under fire, and was wounded in doing so.

Brevet Major G. H. Summers, 26th King George's Own Light Cavalry, as Staff Officer and Intelligence Officer, provided timely and most accurate information, and was indefatigable in the performance of his duties.

Captain H. L. Ismay, 21st Prince Albert Victor's Own Cavalry, made the staff arrangements in February prior to and during the operations, and with complete success, this not being an easy task in a waterless country such as Somaliland in the dry season.

I have, &c.,

G. F. ARCHER,

His Majesty's Commissioner and Commander-in-Chief,
Somaliland Protectorate.

From Lieutenant-Colonel T. A. Cubitt, Commanding the Troops, Somaliland Protectorate, to H. M. Commissioner and Commander-in-Chief.

Military Headquarters, Burao,
9th February 1915.

SIR,

In accordance with your request I have the honour to render the following report on the operations at Shimber Berris in November 1914 and February 1915.

I left Burao on 17th November with a self-contained mounted column of 14 officers and 520 rank and file, composed partly of Indian contingent and partly of Camel Constabulary. The neighbourhood of Shimber Berris was reached on 19th without the dervishes being aware the column had even left Burao. The column ascended the Burdab, and the enemy were found to be in occupation of three forts on the top of the hill. The attack on the two nearest forts commenced at 11 A.M.; one was rushed by a party of the Indian contingent under Lieutenant Howard, but the other, though charged repeatedly by a company of the Camel Corps, was firmly held by the dervishes. During one of these charges Captain Symons, King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry, was killed within one yard of the door. Machine guns were brought into action at close range, but to no avail. Realising that the fort was too strong to be rushed, I broke off the action at 3 P.M., the withdrawal being effected in good order and almost without molestation. The column camped eight miles south of the Burdab. Reinforced by a gun from Burao, the column advanced again against the forts on the morning of 23rd November. One fort again offered no resistance, and the fort attacked on the 19th was speedily captured. Captain Dobbs was despatched with two companies and the gun to attack a third fort situated 1,100 yards away, but necessitating a detour of four miles owing to the presence of precipitous ravines. The attack was well executed; 60 to 70 dervishes fled precipitately out of the fort and down the hill, suffering some casualties. A fort in the valley near the wells and 800 feet below my position was shelled, whereupon the enemy evacuated the forts and caves in the valley and fled eastwards.

In view of the fact that there were a number of severely wounded officers and men in my camp, I deemed it imperative to return to Burao as soon as possible. Moreover, without explosives it was impossible to effect anything more than very partial demolition of the forts; therefore I decided not to attempt any demolition in the valley. The column was accordingly assembled at 3 P.M., and Burao was reached on 25th.

The terrain at Shimber Berris is extremely difficult; the Burdab range rises a sheer 1,100 feet out of the plain, and is intersected with steep ravines covered everywhere with boulders and thick scrub. The forts are remarkably well sited and very strong. The walls are 9 to 12 feet thick at the base, 16 to 20 feet high, and 24 feet wide, provided with well-made machicouli galleries but badly constructed loopholes, and each fort is capable of holding from 50 to 70 men. The sides of the cliffs are honeycombed with caves, some of which are capable of containing 100 men and animals.

The troops were not in sufficient strength to leave a post in Shimber Berris, and, as I anticipated, the dervishes returned in about a fortnight. The Mullah was careful, however, to send an entirely new detachment to replace the former one, whose moral had been severly shaken. Explosives were obtained from Aden and India, and an officer with thirteen men, 23rd Sikh Pioneers, was placed at our disposal by the General Officer Commanding, Aden, so that I was enabled to concentrate a force, partly mounted and partly dismounted of 15 officers, 570 rank and file, six machine guns, and two guns in the neighbourhood of Shimber Berris on 2nd February. The mobility of this column was hampered by 280 transport camels, the majority of which were carrying water.

On 3rd February, I advanced in two columns against the forts of the Burdab. Although the dervishes had commenced construction of new forts, the hill top was unoccupied; and the forts were blown up by the Pioneers. The following morning, 4th February, the column was transferred from south to north of the Burdab by a pass seven miles west of Shimber Berris, and was concentrated in the plain close to that place by noon. The enemy were holding two forts overlooking and flanking a deep nullah and a fort at the far end of the nullah, also in occupation of the numerous caves in the hillsides.

One company was despatched against each of the flanking forts, while the middle fort was also engaged at long range.

The two flanking forts were captured after two hours' fighting, but the enemy developed a heavy fire from the caves, from the middle fort, and from the vicinity of the fort. The guns were brought forward, and with machine guns engaged the middle fort and the caves at close range. The enemy's fire slackened, and dervishes were observed to be evacuating the fort and retiring southwards up the ravine. I despatched a company against this fort, but, although unable to effect an entrance, the company remained round the fort and enabled the Pioneers to place a charge of guncotton against the door, under a hot fire from the occupants inside. The fort and its defenders were blown up, hand grenades were thrown into caves known to be still occupied, and the two flanking forts were also blown up. I then withdrew the column, reaching my zareba at 6-15 P.M., fighting having lasted continuously for more than five hours. The next morning all the caves were found to have been evacuated. Leaving a tribal post at Shimber Berris, the column returned to Burao on 7th and 9th February.

It is difficult to estimate the numbers opposed to the column or the numbers killed either in November or February, but information leads me to believe that 400 to 500 were present in November, of whom some 40 were killed and many died of wounds subsequently; while in February not more than 100 to 120 remained to oppose the advance, of whom 32 alone were found dead in the caves.

The casualties during both periods are as follows:—

Killed, 1 officer, 1 rank and file (Indian contingent), 3 rank and file (Camel Corps), 4 tribal auxiliaries; wounded, 5 officers, 1 rank and file (Indian contingent), 24 rank and file (Camel Corps), 10 tribal auxiliaries. I desire to bring to your notice the services rendered by the following officers:—

* * * * * * * *

Captain H. C. Dobbs, 124th Duchess of Connaught's Own Baluchistan Infantry, brought a gun into action on 23rd November within sixty yards of a fort, under hot fire, and conducted a flank attack with success.

The following are also deserving of mention:—

Major G. H. Summers, 26th King George's Own Light Cavalry, my Staff Officer.

(b) In February.

Captain W. A. H. Bird, 23rd Sikh Pioneers, displayed great skill in the demolition of the forts, and on one occasion under a hot fire at close range.

Captain H. L. Ismay, 21st Prince Albert Victor's Own Cavalry, made all the staff arrangements prior to and during the operations, an exceedingly difficult task in a waterless country in the dry season, and with the complete success that you witnessed.

Lieutenant C. A. L. Howard, 32nd Lancers, displayed considerable courage in throwing hand grenades into caves under fire, and was wounded in doing so.

(c) The following native officer, non-commissioned officers and men

THE SECOND SCHEDULE.

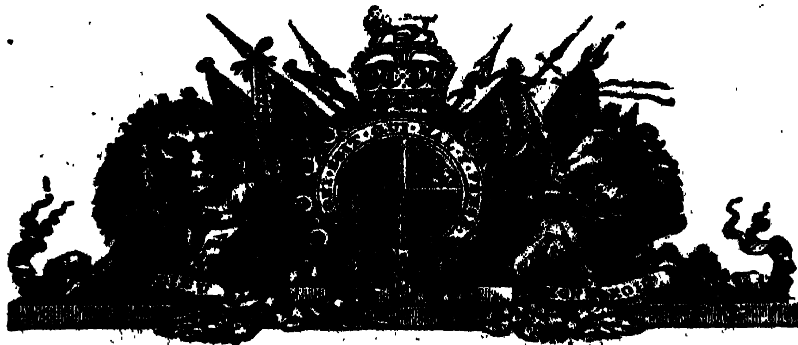
ORDINARY FELLOWS OF THE FIRST SENATE.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THIS Bill is intended to provide the legislative sanction necessary for the constitution of a University at Patna. A scheme for the establishment of such a University was prepared in 1913 by a large local Committee and published for general criticism. This scheme, after being in some respects modified in the light of public criticism, and the views of the Local Government has received the approval of the Secretary of State, and forms the basis of the present Bill.



The University contemplated by the Bill will be primarily a residential and teaching University located at Patna. In view, however, of the existence of Colleges in other parts of the Province, and the local feeling in favour of their retention, it is provided that, in addition to the Colleges at Patna, the University should comprise Colleges situated at four other centres, and the Bihar National College at Bankipur. The Colleges at Patna, which will be known as Colleges of the University, will be under the direct control of the Syndicate in matters of education, and of a whole-time Vice-Chancellor in matters of discipline, while the other or 'external' Colleges will be subject to general supervision and inspection by the same authorities on lines generally similar to those governing the relation of affiliated Colleges to a University under the Universities Act of 1904.

The constitution of the new University will enable the Province of Bihar and Orissa to obtain a University of its own, and will effect some reduction in the large number of students now under the jurisdiction of the University of Calcutta.

The 21st September, 1916. C. SANKARAN NAIR.

Secretary to the Government of India.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS FOR THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1915-16.

No.2348Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 2nd October 1916.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter No. 4948, dated the 30th August 1916, from the Vice-Chairman, Port Commissioners, Calcutta, submitting the Administration Report of the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta for the year 1915-16.

Income.—The income of the Trust during the year amounted to Rs. 1,59,35,456, or less than the budget estimates for the year by Rs. 5,25,681

but an improvement of Rs. 14,85,107 over that of the previous year. The income for the year includes a sum of Rs. 26·97 lakhs from receipts derived from War surcharges which were levied on all commodities except coal and pig-iron. Excluding this item, the total receipts from ordinary sources amounted to Rs. 1,32,37,773, as against Rs. 1,44,50.349 in the previous year, which, however, includes the War surtax levied during the last two months of that year.

The following figures show the effect of the War on the shipping and trade of the port during the year under review :—

		August to March.
		1913-14.	1914-15.	1915-16.
I.—Net tonnage of the port	...	2,925,801	2,338,811	1,910,057
		Tons.	Tons.	Tons.
II.—Jetties, Imports	...	824,760	537,021	476,811

V.— „ Coal	...	2,007,648	1,666,555	1,067,678

The figures speak for themselves. The decreases in the tonnage handled rendered necessary the continuance of the War surcharges throughout the year.

Under the following heads the receipts fell appreciably below the estimate for the year :—

		Actual	Estimate.	Difference.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Petroleum wharf	...	4,24,789	4,41,625	16,836

Special War surcharges		26,97,683	30,00,000	3,02,317

Expenditure.—The expenditure on Revenue account amounted to Rs. 1,49,07,001 as against Rs. 1,56,30,272 estimated for the year, and Rs. 1,55,38,840, the expenditure of the previous year. There was a credit balance on the year's working of Rs. 10,28,454, but as the year opened with a debit balance on Revenue account of Rs. 10,88,490, the net deficit at the close of the year under review was Rs. 60,035.

The actual expenditure was noticeably less than the estimate for the year under the following heads :—

		Actual	Estimate.	Difference.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Jetties	...	9,55,133	10,14,318	59,185
Wet docks	...	28,44,442	30,41,476	1,97,034
Ferry service	...	3,29,805	3,71,793	41,988
Minor works	...	......	25,000	25,000
Provision to meet unforeseen expenditure		......	1,00,000	1,00,000
Unforeseen establishment charges	...	......	50,000	50,000
Interest and Sinking Fund charges	...	63,57,815	66,37,723	2,79,908
Interest on Bank balances ...	...	...	30,000	30,000

Jetties.—During the year 241 vessels with an aggregate gross tonnage of 1,330,885 were berthed at the jetties, as compared with 212 vessels with a tonnage of 1,247,392 in the previous year. The total imports in tons delivered from the jetties were 788,431. The total earnings amounted to Rs. 14,65,026, of which 80 per cent. were contributed by goods and 20 per cent. by vessels. There was a decrease of 130,000 tons landed at the jetties as compared with the previous year, and of 395,000 tons as compared with 1913-14.

The general decline in imports was made up to some extent by increased imports from Japan, America and Scandinavia.

Owing to the reduced demand by European Lines for accommodation at the jetties, practically all the vessels of the China and Far Eastern trades, which formerly discharged in the stream, and vessels of the British India Steam Navigation Company from Bombay viâ Coast ports were berthed at the jetties.

Docks.—During the year 905 vessels were berthed at the Docks, of which 26 were Government transports, as against 1,160 vessels in the previous year, of which 108 were Government transports. The total number of vessels that entered empty and loaded general exports was 354 as against 282 in the previous year. There was, however, a marked decline in the number of vessels that entered empty and loaded coal. The total imports and exports in tons landed and shipped over the Dock quays were 570,997 and 2,665,630, respectively, as against 700,133 and 3,554,464 of the previous year.

The imports of sugar and rice at the Docks have been unusually large. On the other hand, there was a marked decline in general imports and sleepers. The abolition of the Salt Golahs at the Docks resulted in the transfer of the whole of this trade to the stream. As regards general exports the figures for tea and gunnies are the highest on record, the exports of jute, manganese, pig-iron and shellac being also very satisfactory. The port, however, suffered severely during the year owing to the great fall in the export of coal due to shortage of tonnage, the decrease being over 47 per cent. and 39 per cent. as compared with the figures of 1913-14 and 1914-15 respectively. The export of wheat and seeds was only 40 per cent. of the last quinquennial average and less by 26 per cent. than the figures of the preceding year.

The total decline in the traffic of the Docks, in both imports and exports, amounted to over 1,000,000 tons as compared with that of the previous year, and over 1,600,000 tons as compared with the traffic of 1913-14.

Petroleum Wharf, Budge-Budge.—The Petroleum Wharf received 99 vessels only for discharge of oil, as against 115 in the previous year, 75,979,488 gallons of kerosine oil being discharged as against 79,851,577 in the previous year. The total revenue of the depôt amounted to Rs. 1,24,789, a decrease of Rs. 1,498 as compared with the earnings of the previous year.

Tea Warehouse.—The year was a record one for the tea trade, the quantity of tea handled for sale and shipment being larger than in any previous year. For nearly five months in the year stocks largely exceeded the capacity of the warehouse. The Calcutta sales were in excess of those of the previous season by 34 million lbs., and by 14 million lbs. of those of 1913-14, while, in spite of the difficulties in shipment, the tonnage shipped through the Docks was the highest on record, being 14,637 tons and 25,013 tons in excess of 1914-15 and 1913-14, respectively.

Inland Vessels Wharves.—The revenue of the Inland vessels wharves shows an improvement of Rs. 28,154 over that of the previous year, but is less than that of 1913-14 by Rs. 67,311.

Ferry Service.—In consequence of two of the steamers of this service having been utilized for Government purposes for nearly six months of the year the total number of passengers carried was less than that of the previous year. The earnings, however, show a small improvement, which was due to increase of traffic on the longer runs, for which higher rates of fare are charged.

Railway.—The receipts under this head were Rs. 1,47,220 higher than those of the previous year. This was due to the enhanced rate of terminal charges paid by the different railways to the Commissioners from the beginning of the year.

Port and Port Approaches.—The vessels which visited the port numbered 1,150, with an aggregate gross tonnage of 4,848,961, as against 1,428 vessels with a gross tonnage of 5,997,639 in 1914-15 and against 1,650 vessels with a gross tonnage of 6,926,817 in 1913-14. The income of the Port amounted to Rs. 4,47,932, or Rs. 87,061 less than that of the previous year. The income of the Port Approaches, which is derived mainly from the Port dues on shipping, was Rs. 5,78,917, or a decrease of Rs. 1,04,817 as compared with that of the previous year, testifying to the marked decline in tonnage.

Improvement of Navigable Channels.—The Dredgers "Balari" and "Sandpiper" worked during the year chiefly on the Eastern Gut and Moyapur Bars in the Upper Reaches and on the Upper Balari Bar in the Lower Reaches. During the latter part of the year both the Eastern Gut and Moyapur Bars suffered deterioration owing to the "Sandpiper" having been laid up for repairs.

The lighting of the river channels at night between Mud Point and Saugor was taken advantage of by about 30 ships which passed down the channels at night.

In connection with the question whether training works should be undertaken in the Port Approaches in addition to dredging, a good deal of data was compiled in accordance with the programme laid down by Mr. M. Nethersole, C.S.I., Inspector-General of Irrigation, after his inspection of the river.

Capital Expenditure.—The total expenditure on Capital account during the year amounted to Rs. 71 lakhs as against Rs. 109·6 lakhs estimated for the year, showing the great restriction that had to be placed on expenditure owing to the situation created by the War. The chief works in progress during the year were practically the same as in the preceding year. The expenditure was met from the opening balance on Capital account of Rs. 23 lakhs and a loan of Rs. 85 lakhs raised by an arrangement with the Bank of Bengal.

Capital Account.—The capital debt of the Trust at the close of the year amounted to Rs. 10,75,49,302, while the total assets were Rs. 14,10,70,051.

Besides the assets referred to, the Commissioners have at their disposal three other funds accumulated out of revenue, which constitute an important asset of the Trust. These are the Reserve Fund, the Depreciation Fund and the Fire Insurance Fund. The total amount at credit of these Funds on the 31st March 1916 was Rs. 32,42,010.

During the year several members of the supervising staff were permitted by the Commissioners to join His Majesty's Forces in different capacities. The Commissioners also assisted Government from time to time by the loan of vessels for military and other purposes.

The Governor in Council desires to express his thanks to the Commissioners, and especially to Mr. H. J. Hilary who held the office of Vice-Chairman throughout the year, for their efficient administration of the Trust in a year of exceptional financial and other difficulties due to the War.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the Resolution be forwarded to the Government of India and to the officers and departments concerned, and that it be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By order of the Governor in Council,

C. P. WALSH,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Bengal Pilot Service.—The Bengal Pilot Service lost the services of four officers during the year : one Branch and one Senior Master Pilot retired, and one First and one Second Mate Leadsman resigned. Of the two Leadsmen, one resigned in order to take service connected with the war. As no suitable candidates for the service were obtainable in England owing to war conditions, one Leadsman Apprentice was appointed locally from the Merchant Service. There were 52 pilots and 11 Leadsmen Apprentices in the service during the year, of whom no less than 15 officers out of 21 absent on leave were employed on duties connected with the war.

2. Vessels piloted.—Vessels to the number of 1,145 with a gross tonnage of 4,832,612, and 1,154 with a gross tonnage of 4,750,736 were piloted inwards and outwards, respectively, against 1,431 and 1,451 vessels with a gross tonnage of 6,006,581 and 6,099,433, respectively, during the previous year.

The number of vessels drawing over 21 feet piloted inwards and outwards was 395 and 739, respectively, against 401 and 827 vessels in the preceding year. No vessel was detained at the Sandheads for want of a pilot.

Two vessels were neaped during the year for want of sufficient water on the bars.

3. Pilotage receipts.—The receipts from pilotage were Rs. 11,06,117 against Rs. 13,14,601 and Rs. 14,63,822 in 1914-15 and 1913-14, respectively.

4. Casualties to vessels.—There were 23 cases of groundings against 24 in 1914-15. No damage resulted. In two instances the pilots were found to have been guilty of an error of judgment.

One collision occurred against 4 in the preceding year, and one boat was damaged as the result of collision. The Pilots in fault were suitably dealt with.

Three cases of casualties to vessels were referred to Departmental and 10 to Special Courts of Enquiry.

5. Examinations.—Thirty-four candidates out of 77 successfully passed the examinations for the grant of Colonial and Home-Trade Certificates of Competency as Master, Mate, Engineer or Engine-driver, and 130 out of 575 candidates passed the examinations for Certificates of Competency as Master, Serang or Engine-driver under the Inland Steam-vessels Act, 1884.

6. Commander D. F. Vines, R.I.M., held the office of Port Officer and Shipping Master throughout the year.

Commander G. N. Forteath, R.I.M., Deputy Port Officer and Senior Deputy Shipping Master, reverted to the Royal Indian Marine on the 27th

April 1915, when the duties were carried on by Lieutenant J. C. Ward, R.I.M., Assistant Port Officer, up to 7th August Commander G. H. S. LaTouche, R.I.M., took over the duties of the office from the 7th August 1915.

7. The thanks of Government are due to Commander Vines for his efficient administration of the Department during a particularly strenuous year and to those officers of the Pilot Service who were on duty during the year, for their ready and willing co-operation in the various circumstances which have arisen in consequence of the war.

REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EXCISE DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1915-16.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2068S.R.—The 25th September 1916.—The following extracts from the Report of the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal, on the administration of the Excise Department in Bengal during 1915-16 are published for general information, together with a memorandum issued by Government on the Report.

J. DONALD,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 3483E., dated Calcutta, the 25th August 1916.

From—A. N. MOBERLY, ESQ., I.C.S., Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Dept.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following report on the administration of the Excise Department in the Presidency of Bengal for the year 1915-16.

* * * * * *

5. Temperance teaching in schools.—The following has been communicated to me in compliance with Government memorandum No. 1850 S.R., dated the 24th September 1915, for incorporation in this report :—

"Instruction on the abuse of drugs and intoxicants is provided for in the syllabus for Standards III to VI of schools in Western Bengal, while such instruction is provided for in Eastern Bengal for classes V to VII in 'A Teacher's Handbook on Temperance Lessons' by Captain Gourlay, I.M.S., issued by the late Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam. The orders of the Government of India contained in paragraph 4 of the Commerce and Industry Department Resolution Nos. 6305—6323-221, dated the 25th July 1914, regarding temperance teaching in schools are engaging the attention of the Education Department."

6. Excise Advisory Committees.—Excise Advisory Committees were convened for all municipalities outside the Calcutta district and for all rural areas, with the exception of the Sadar subdivision of the Dinajpur district, in which there is no Local Board.

* * * * * *

7. Licensing Boards.—The Licensing Board for the Calcutta Municipality held eight meetings during the year, of which four meetings, held during the first quarter, were dealt with in paragraph 7 of last year's report. The Boards for the Cossipore-Chitpur, Maniktola, Garden Reach, Howrah, and Bally Municipalities held one meeting each. The Licensing Board for the South Suburban Municipality held no meeting, as there are no shops in that portion of the Municipality which lies within the Calcutta district.

The Calcutta Licensing Board held two meetings in July and September, in connection with changes of site, which were mostly necessitated by the acquisition of the old sites for public purposes. The Board also visited the site of a tari shop, to the licensee of which time had been granted for removal, and decided that it need not be changed before the end of the year.

8. Consumption of country spirit, ganja and opium.—The consumption of country spirit, ganja and opium decreased by 7·3 per cent., 17·2 per cent. and 17·1 per cent., respectively, as compared with that in 1914-15. Economic conditions were generally bad, except in certain areas in which the circumstances of jute mills and tea gardens directly affect the prosperity of a large body of persons who mostly consume country spirit, though there was some improvement towards the end of the year. As was only to be expected, the rate of decrease was most marked during the first four months, in which comparison is made with a period anterior to the outbreak of war. During those four months the consumption of country spirit decreased by 18·3 per cent., that of ganja by 25·6 per cent., and that of oipum by 20·8 per cent. as compared with the previous year. The larger decrease in the case of drugs was mainly due to an increase in retail prices at a time when consumers could ill afford it. In the last seven months of the year, when comparison is made with the first seven months after the effect of the war was felt, the consumption of country spirit showed a nominal increase of ·1 per cent., whilst that of ganja and opium showed decreases of 10·2 per cent. and 14·7 per cent., respectively. The consumption of country spirit was practically stationary, but the increased prices of ganja and opium were still pressing heavily upon consumers. There were also indications that the amount of opium which had formerly been sold to smugglers in certain districts had been underestimated, and the curtailment of allotments to shops, in which the vendors admittedly could not dispose licitly of as much opium as they were at first allowed, accounts for the heavier proportionate fall in the consumption of that drug.

9. Temperance movement at Teknaaf.—The Collector of Chittagong reported at the end of April 1915 that a temperance movement had been initiated among the Maghs at Teknaaf and that the sale of country spirit at the local shop had almost entirely ceased. The shop was accordingly closed from the 1st May, and, although a case of illicit distillation was subsequently detected, it has been kept closed as the movement appears so far to be due to a genuine desire to abstain from liquor. The tari and pachwai shops at Teknaaf were closed from the same date.

10. Total revenue and charges * * * .—The excise revenue and charges of the Presidency for the last five years are shown below :—

Period.	Revenue.	Charges.	Net revenue.	Percentage of charges.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1911-12	1,33,89,707	6,21,197	1,27,68,510	4·63
1912-13	1,37,59,157	6,00,994	1,31,58,163	4·37
1913-14	1,53,88,017	6,38,308	1,47,49,709	4·14
1914-15	1,53,59,916	7,42,121	1,46,17,795	4·83
1915-16	1,51,30,570	8,26,217	1,43,04,353	5·46
Difference of the past two years.	−2,29,346	+84,096	−3,13,442	+·63

12. Actual receipts.—Deducting the advance collections (Rs. 10,06,237) for 1916-17 and adding the revenue (Rs. 12,16,837) for 1915-16, which was collected in advance in 1914-15, the actual receipts on account of 1915-16 were Rs. 1,53,41,170 against Rs. 1,52,20,821 (after similar adjustment) of the preceding year, showing an increase of Rs. 1,20,349 or ·79 per cent.

* * * * * *

14. Revenue under different heads * * * .—The chief increase in receipts again occurred under the head "Opium" (Rs. 2,13,568). There were large decreases under "country spirit" (Rs. 3,33,423) and ganja (Rs. 1,13,858). The only other considerable variations were a decrease of Rs. 33,779 under tari and an increase of Rs. 27,986 under pachwai.

15. Demand and Collection * * * .—Taking the population of the Presidency of Bengal, according to the census of 1911, to be 45,329,247, the incidence of excise revenue was 5 annas 4 pies against 5 annas 5 pies in the previous year.

16. Result of settlements for the current year up to 31st May 1916.— * * * * * * The settlements for the current year show a net decrease of Rs. 8,24,388. The alteration in the system of taxation of country spirit in Calcutta, which is explained in paragraph 19 below, is responsible for a decrease of Rs. 7,94,196. If this sum be excluded the net decrease only amounts to Rs. 30,192.

License-fees for country spirit have increased in nine districts and decreased in eighteen, the net decrease amounting to Rs. 8,55,113. Apart from the decrease in Calcutta there are no very striking fluctuations, the most marked being an increase of Rs. 19,520 in Midnapore and decreases of just over Rs. 10,000 in Mymensingh, Dinajpur and Pabna and just under Rs. 10,000 in Dacca. There has been a small increase of Rs. 30,725 under the head "Other excisable articles." Opium license-fees have risen generally, the total increase amounting to Rs. 1,49,286. Notwithstanding a decrease of nearly Rs. 46,000 in the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions, ganja license-fees have increased by Rs. 81,368, due mainly to increases of Rs. 92,292 and Rs. 22,500 in Calcutta and Dinajpur, respectively. The increases under opium and ganja are due to keen competition following on increased profits, the result of higher retail prices. On the other hand pachwai license-fees have fallen by more than Rs. 1,60,000, and there has been a decrease in foreign liquor license-fees in the Dacca Division, due to the higher prices charged by the wholesale dealers. As a result there is a net decrease of Rs. 71,012 in the Burdwan Division, due to the falling off under pachwai, though Hooghly shows an increase of Rs. 40,008, and of Rs. 69,105 in the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions, owing to decreases under foreign liquor and ganja. The Presidency Division shows a net increase of Rs. 1,64,730 due to increases of Rs. 1,34.775 in Calcutta and Rs. 37,586 in the 24-Parganas, and the Rajshahi Division a net increase of Rs. 6,112.

SECTION II.—Country Liquor.

Country Spirit.

17. System.—The system of contract supply was the only system in force in this Presidency during the year under report.

18. Country Spirit Licenses.—The number of licenses for the sale of country spirit was 1,164 as compared with 1,233 in 1914-15, a decrease of 69. One shop was abolished in each of the districts of Burdwan, Faridpur and Pabna, 2 each in Murshidabad, Jessore, Dacca, Rajshahi and Malda, 3 each in Bankura, Howrah and Khulna, 4 in Nadia, 5 each in Midnapore and the 24-Parganas, 10 in Hooghly, and 25 in Calcutta. There was an increase of two shops in Mymensingh, owing to the substitution of country spirit shops for foreign liquor shops in two places, where it was found that consumers of the lower classes were acquiring a taste for cheap imitation brandy in lieu of country spirit, which they could not obtain easily, as the nearest shops were at a considerable distance.

19. Consumption.—The total consumption of country spirit in the Presidency amounted to 665,023 proof gallons against 717,822 proof gallons in the preceding year, a decrease of 52,799 proof gallons. The decrease would have been larger but for the fact that consumption in Calcutta did not fall to the extent that had been anticipated. The abolition of nearly a quarter of the country spirit shops caused keen competition at the settlements for the shops which remained and license-fees increased by nearly 20 per cent. It was expected that this increase in taxation would cause a general enhancement of the retail price of liquor. But the vendors immediately began to compete for the custom of the shops which had been abolished. Most of them soon discovered that this competition merely resulted in loss, but when they wished to raise their prices they found that a small minority, who were not losing, would not fall into line. Ultimately the large majority of the vendors petitioned for relief. The rate of duty was enhanced from Rs. 6-4 to Rs. 9-6 per proof gallon with effect from the 1st April 1916, with the result that all the vendors surrendered their licenses. Settlement was then made with them for one year at comparatively low fixed license-fees. The revised duty and license-fees left no margin for price cutting, prices rose immediately and consumption has now decreased considerably.

Consumption was affected to some extent by the reduction, from the 1st April 1915, of the strength at which spirit was issued to retail shops in 13 districts. The general decrease was, however, mainly due to the continuance of the economic depression and high prices caused by the war and, in some areas, by a partial failure of crops. It is not surprising therefore that consumption should have increased in the areas whose prosperity depends upon that of the two industries, jute and tea, which did extremely well during the year under report. In the first of these areas, which consists of the Serampore thana of Hooghly and the Barrackpore subdivision of the 24-Parganas and contains most of the jute mills, consumption increased by 9·3 per cent., a fact which shows in a striking manner the influence of the economic factor upon consumption, since the decrease in the remaining areas of these districts amounted to 33·7 and 28·0 per cent., respectively. In the district of Jalpaiguri consumption increased by 9·0 per cent., but this was due not only to the flourishing condition of the tea industry, but also to the efforts made to check the smuggling of outstill liquor from Bhutan. Some increase was made in the establishment in the course of the year and preventive measures met with more success, though a large quantity of illicit liquor still comes in. The small increase of 63 proof gallons in Mymensingh occurred in the Netrokona and Tangail subdivisions and was due partly to the substitution of country spirit shops for foreign liquor shops, which had disposed of at least 500 proof gallons of spirits in the preceding year, and partly to an influx of up-country coolies to work on the construction of a new railway line.

The decrease again exceeded 1,000 proof gallons in 20 districts. It was largest in the 24-Parganas (6,933 proof gallons), Burdwan (6,463 proof gallons), Calcutta (5,422 proof gallons), Midnapore (5,067 proof gallons), Bankura (4,075 proof gallons) and Malda (3,050 proof gallons) and exceeded 2,000 proof gallons in Dinajpur, Rajshahi, Darjeeling, Howrah and Hooghly. The proportionate decreases were largest in Chittagong and Tippera (20·7 per cent.), Rajshahi (20·1 per cent.), Bankura (19·5 per cent.), Khulna and Pabna (19·3 per cent.), Malda (19·2 per cent.), Dinajpur (18·8 per cent.) and Murshidabad (18·0 per cent.). Although the decrease in Calcutta exceeded 5,000 proof gallons, it amounted to less than 2 per cent. of the previous year's consumption.

20. Total revenue from country spirit.—The total revenue—license and distillery fees and duty—from country spirit was Rs. 63,33,487 against Rs. 66,66,910 in 1914-15, a decrease of Rs. 3,33,423. The revenue derived from duty and distillery fees decreased by Rs. 2,58,919 and that from license-fees by Rs. 74,504.

21. Convictions for drunkenness and action taken against licensees for permitting it.— * * * * * In Calcutta 6,763 persons were convicted of drunkenness as compared with 8,216 in the previous year. Three cases have been reported—one from each of the districts of the 24-Parganas, Calcutta, and Bogra—in which vendors or salesmen permitted drunkenness on licensed premises. In Calcutta the case related to a tari shop. All the cases were compounded under section 65 of the Bengal Excise Act, on payment of sums of Rs. 10 in each of the districts of Calcutta and Bogra and of Rs. 5 in the 24-Parganas.

22. Distilleries and warehouses.—As in the previous year, there were two modern distilleries in the Presidency, at Asansol and Konnagar, and one distillery in the Government premises at Russa. There was no change in the areas of supply. The contract with the Cawnpore Sugar Works Company, Limited, for the supply of country spirit to the districts of the Rajshahi Division except Darjeeling, which expired on the 31st March 1915, was renewed for one year. The warehouses at Kalna, Chinsura, Serampore and Howrah have been closed from the 1st April 1916 and a new warehouse has been opened at Bandel. Molasses or mohua were the bases used in the manufacture of country spirit.

Supplies from distilleries to the various bonded warehouses were generally adequate. Stocks occasionally fell below the prescribed minimum, but there were no instances in which they fell so low as to cause difficulty in supplying retail vendors.

Tari.

24. Statistics.—The total number of licenses issued for the sale of fermented and fresh tari decreased from 1,744 to 1,742 and the total receipts from Rs. 4,86,642 to Rs. 4,52,863 or by Rs. 33,779.

25. Fermented Tari.—The number of fermented tari licenses decreased from 762 to 690. In the district of the 24-Parganas, where shops are numerous, 27 shops were abolished, following on a reduction of 29 shops in 1914-15. Elsewhere the chief changes were decreases of 16 shops in Howrah, 9 in Murshidabad, 6 each in Midnapore and Hooghly, and 4 each in Burdwan and Malda.

The bulk of the fermented tari revenue is derived from the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions and the district of Malda, which contributed Rs. 4,27,036 out of a total revenue under this head of Rs. 4,48,640. License-fees decreased by Rs. 34,083 as compared with the previous year. The decrease was largest in the 24-Parganas (Rs. 33,385), Malda (Rs. 4,517), Murshidabad (Rs. 3,280), Howrah (Rs. 2,344), Chittagong (Rs. 1,367), and Midnapore (Rs. 1,160), whilst there was an increase of Rs. 10,844 in Calcutta and of Rs. 1,682 in Dinajpur.

Pachwai.

27. Licenses.—The total number of licenses issued for retail sale, home-brewing and special manufacture was 28,460 as compared with 25,301 in 1914-15 :—

	1914-15.	1915-16.
Retail sale	1,508	1,390
Home-brewing	23,323	26,738
Special manufacture	470	332

The number of retail licenses decreased in Burdwan (36), the 24-Parganas (38), Murshidabad (18), Birbhum (12), Midnapore (9), Khulna (4), Bankura (3), Hooghly (2), Howrah (1), and Jessore (1). The decrease in Burdwan and Murshidabad was due to the abolition of shops in localities in which they were numerous with the object of removing unnecessary facilities for obtaining pachwai. In Midnapore and the 24-Parganas unfavourable economic conditions and the high price of rice prevented vendors from coming forward to take settlement of some of the smaller shops. Both these causes contributed to the decrease in Birbhum. A new shop was opened in Nadia, on the application of a number of aboriginal consumers, in a locality in which several cases of illicit manufacture had been detected.

The number of home-brewing licenses increased by 3,584 in Dinajpur, 1,001 in Malda, 223 in Rajshahi, 198 in Rangpur, and 163 in Pabna. There was a decrease of 853 licenses in Darjeeling, 416 in Mymensingh, 272 in Jalpaiguri, 114 in Dacca, 81 in Bogra, and 18 in Tippera. The increase in Dinajpur was due to the activity of the Excise staff in the last quarter of the year after a good paddy crop had been harvested. People do not go to Excise officers to ask for licenses, and the number taken out depends largely on the number of villages which officers can visit at a time when the aborigines have rice or money and wish to brew pachwai. If an officer does not come round they brew without a license. In Malda the Superintendent of Excise succeeded in breaking the combination among the Santals by organising raids on the villages of the ringleaders, with the result that four of them were convicted of illicit manufacture. The Collector reports that the Santals now make no objection to taking out licenses, but that there is no doubt that a number of those who manufacture escape taxation, owing to the inability of the small Excise staff to visit all the villages at the season during which manufacture is prevalent. This is equally true of all the districts in which home-brewing is common, and the present position is far from satisfactory.

28. Revenue.—The revenue from retail license-fees increased from Rs. 8,60,654 to Rs. 8,83,978, or by Rs. 23,324. The increase was considerable in Burdwan (Rs. 20,508), Murshidabad (Rs. 5,436), and Birbhum (Rs. 5,361). There was a decrease of Rs. 11,212 in Bankura. The revenue from home-brewing licenses increased from Rs. 39,559 to Rs. 44,221.

SECTION III.—Foreign Liquor.

30. Licenses and Revenue.—The total number of licenses issued for the wholesale and retail vend of potable foreign liquor, exclusive of licenses for the retail sale of medicated wines and rectified spirits, was 641 against 656* in the previous year. * * * * * *

The "On and Off" license for foreign liquor, which allowed the holder to sell for consumption either on or off the premises, was abolished from the 1st April 1915 and the system of issuing subsidiary licenses, under which the vendors of country spirit in Calcutta were permitted to sell foreign liquor for consumption either on or off the premises, was discontinued from the same date. The effect of these measures and of the substitution of country spirit shops for two foreign liquor shops in Mymensingh was a decrease of 40 retail foreign liquor licenses as shown below:—

Year.		Number of retail licenses.
		"On."	"Off."	"On and Off."	"Subsidiary."	Total.
1914-15	...	...	135	40	57	232
1915-16	...	16	176	...	...	192
Increase	...	16	41	...	...	...
Decrease	...	...	...	40	57	40

As regards other classes of licenses there were decreases under the heads Wholesale (1), Restaurants (5), Railway Refreshment rooms (1), and Dâk Bungalows (3), and increases under Bars at theatres and other places of amusement (33), and Steamers (1). An auctioneer's license was issued in Calcutta.

The number of licenses for the sale of medicated wines and rectified spirits decreased by 44 and 6, respectively. The decrease in the number of medicated wines licenses chiefly occurred in the districts which were formerly included in Eastern Bengal and Assam and was due to the enhancement of the license-fee to the same level as in the other districts of the Presidency.

The total receipts from license-fees amounted to Rs. 3,73,939 as compared with Rs. 3,99,968 in 1914-15. The receipts from duty on Indian-made foreign liquor were Rs. 3,06,794 against Rs. 2,75,464 in the preceding year.

31. Imports and issues of Foreign Liquor from the Custom Houses, Calcutta and Chittagong * * * * *.—

The imports through the port of Chittagong were small. The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, explains the figures of imports into the port of Calcutta in 1915-16 as follows:—

"Ale beer and porter—Have fallen in gallonage by 22 per cent. Consumption has also decreased from 820,503 to 636,305 gallons. The United Kingdom sent 81 per cent. of the whole, but with a contraction of 23 per cent.

* Revised figures.

Holland sent more: also Denmark, which produces an excellent quality of beer: from Japan the quantity rose from 33,383 to 69,478 gallons. Japanese beer is cheaper and is also reported to have relatively a greater proportion of spirit. The absence of large bodies of regular troops from the country doubtless curtails beer consumption, and the new duties will emphasize the contraction.

Spirits.—The great demand for alcohol for munition purposes, the enhanced cost of the raw material and the considerable shortage of labour have caused a shrinkage of 4 per cent. in imports, but values have risen by 9 per cent. The new duties imposed as from the 1st March 1916 will intensify the curtailment. As it is, the local retail prices were raised considerably in the beginning of 1916, and since the budget was introduced there has been another enhancement. Possibly Bengal is becoming more temperate not so much by inclination as by order. The only spirits showing a greater consumption are gin and liqueurs. The quantity of brandy consumed fell from 61,583 to 60,314 gallons; whisky contracted from 190,493 to 180,822 gallons: Denatured spirit fell to 185,948 gallons from 233,619, and rum from 5,009 to 3,774 gallons. With the cessation of the German trade in white or rectified spirits (what little came was on prize court account) the deficiency has been more than filled by larger receipts from Java, arrack spirit increasing in demand from 9,722 to 23,882 proof gallons. It is used principally for the locally-made brandy and whisky so largely consumed by mill and garden labour, and it has evidently been possible to eliminate the special but very disagreeable flavour of arrack. It is interesting to note that samples of Japanese whisky have made their appearance. Perfumed spirit gave some increase to the revenue. The total quantity of proof spirits cleared for consumption fell by 4 per cent. to 289,361 gallons.

Wines.—Imports were greater by 6 per cent., consumption rose by 2 per cent., from 79,165 to 81,007 gallons. Champagne and port were, curiously enough, in greater demand, and vermouth has again increased in popular favour, rising from 26,806 to 27,980 gallons. Vermouth like whisky is a comparatively cheap drink: the Italian seems to be the more popular; but the French variety at one time in the year was unobtainable, which may account for the boom in the former."

The Customs Department have kindly furnished the following statistics of imports and clearances of potable foreign spirits at the Calcutta Custom House:—

Years.	Imported (L. P. Gallons).			Issued on payment of duty (L. P. Gallons).
	Brandy, whisky, rum and gin.	White and rectified spirits.	Total.	Brandy, whisky, rum, and gin	White and rectified spirits.	Total.
1913-14 ...	275,008	54,602	329,610	267,990	50,887	318,877
1914-15 ...	246,726	25,832	272,588	278,918	34,046	312,964
1915-16 ...	269,739	5,963	275,702	257,039	14,867	271,906

32. Manufacture of rectified spirits.—Rectified spirits were manufactured in the Asansol and Konnagar distilleries. A temporary license was granted to Dr. K. C. Bose to work a still with which he wished to experiment at his premises at No. 45, Amherst Street. He is now constructing a small distillery at No. 28, Bahir Mirzapore Road, for the production of rectified spirits.

33. Duty-free spirits.—The following quantities of rum and rectified spirits were issued duty-free during the year :—

Shahjehanpur rum	342
Anwarganj rectified spirits	2,483
Madras ditto	1,442
Asansol ditto	10,599
Konnagar rum	374
Ditto rectified spirits	3,042

* * * * * *

34. Issue of rectified spirits at the reduced rate of duty.—A total quantity of 8,436 L. P. gallons of rectified spirits manufactured at Konnagar. Asansol, Anwarganj (in the United Provinces), Madras and in the experimental Distillery at 45, Amherst Street, Calcutta, was issued to wholesale chemists and druggists for the manufacture of medicines, chemicals or drugs, on payment of duty at the reduced rate of Rs. 7-13 per proof gallon, or used by Messrs. D. Waldie & Co. for the manufacture of these articles in bond.

Locally manufactured Beer.

37. Statistics.—The number of breweries was 2 as in the previous year. Duty was charged upon 24,771 gallons as compared with 49,617 gallons in 1914-15. The outturn at the Victoria Brewery, Sonada, fell off on account of the transfer of troops from the district. There was no manufacture at the St. Mary's Seminary, Kurseong, where beer is only manufactured for private consumption, as the balance of the previous year's stock was sufficient to meet the demand.

Receipts from license-fees and duty amounted to Rs. 4,809 against Rs. 9,468 in the previous year.

SECTION IV.—Hemp Drugs.

Ganja.

41. Retail licenses.—The total number of licenses issued in the Presidency for the retail sale of ganja was 1,275 as compared with 1,347 in 1914-15. * * * * * *

42. Consumption of Ganja.—The total quantity of ganja consumed in the Presidency amounted to 2.138 maunds 12 seers against 2,584 maunds 16 seers in 1914-15, a decrease of 446 maunds 4 seers. The decrease exceeded 10 per cent. in every district. It exceeded 20 per cent. in Tippera (33·6 per cent. or 37½ maunds), Bankura (30·1 per cent. or 7¾ maunds), Malda (24·8 per cent. or 15¾ maunds). Pabna (24·5 per cent. or 20½ maunds). Murshidabad (24·4 per cent. or 12½ maunds), Nadia (23·6 per cent. or 12½ maunds), Bogra (23·2 per cent. or 13¾ maunds). Burdwan (21·5 per cent. or 18¾ maunds), and the 24-Parganas (20·2 per cent. or 50½ maunds), and 10 maunds in Calcutta (60 maunds 36 seers), Mymensingh (42 maunds 8 seers), Dacca (19 maunds 29 seers). Rangpur (18 maunds 8 seers). Rajshahi (15 maunds 11 seers). Midnapore (10 maunds 15 seers), and Bakarganj (10 maunds 14 seers).

The decrease in consumption was due partly to the general economic depression and partly to the fact that, although there was a reduction in license-fees, vendors generally made the increase in the rate of duty an excuse for a considerable advance in their prices. Tippera and Bankura, in which the largest proportionate decreases occurred, both suffered from scarcity during the year.

43. Total revenue.—The total receipts for the year amounted to Rs. 33,83,555 against Rs. 34,97,413 in 1914-15, the net decrease being Rs. 1.13,858. There was a fall of Rs. 2,30,594 in the receipts from license-fees, whilst receipts from duty increased by Rs. 1,16,736.

44. Incidence of Taxation.—The incidence of license-fees per seer of ganja consumed was Rs. 18·3 and that of duty Rs. 20. The total taxation was 38·3 per seer as compared with 32·4 in the preceding year. The greater part of the increased incidence of taxation was caused by the fall in consumption.

* * * * * *

47. Cultivation and outturn of Ganja at Naugaon in Rajshahi.—The crop of 1915 was much smaller than had been expected, and it was anticipated that there might be a shortage, in which case high prices would be realised for the new crop. This led to an increase in the number of applications for permission to cultivate ganja. 3,901 applications were received for an area of 5,627 bighas, against 3,695 applications for an area of 5,338 bighas in the preceding year; 3,103 licenses covering an area of 2,999 bighas 19 cottahs and 7 chataks were granted, as compared with 3,056 licenses covering an area of 2,947 bighas 3 cottahs and 3 chataks in 1914-15. The area actually cultivated with ganja was 2,926 bighas 12 cottahs and 9 chataks against 2,973 bighas 9 cottahs and 4 chataks in the preceding year. * * *

The total quantity of ganja stored in the public golas amounted to 7,232 maunds 15 seers 11 chataks as compared with 6,867 maunds 39 seers 12 chataks in the preceding season.

48. Manufacture and Storage.— * * * *
The cost of cultivation and manufacture of the drug is reported to have been Rs. 30-10 per maund, as in the preceding year, but subsequent enquiries indicate that this is, if anything, an under-estimate.

* * * * * *

49. Receipts, Issues and Balances at the public Golas and the wholesale price at Naugaon.— * * * * *

The total exports from Naugaon during the year amounted to 5,789 maunds 5 seers 2 chataks against 7,614 maunds 2 seers 7 chataks in the preceding year. The decrease was shared by all Provinces and States.

* * * * * *

Bhang.

51. Licenses and Revenue.—The number of retail licenses in the year under report was 222 against 228 in 1914-15. The number was very small except in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions. The total number of druggists' permits issued was 175 as compared with 166 in the preceding year. The total revenue from both license-fees and duty amounted to Rs. 1,09,646 as compared with Rs. 1,06,953 in 1914-15.

52. Consumption.—The total consumption within the Presidency amounted to 629 maunds 13 seers against 671 maunds 25 seers in the previous year. The decrease exceeded 5 maunds in the 24-Parganas (16¼ maunds), Calcutta (12½ maunds), and Burdwan (5½ maunds), the three districts in which bhang is most largely consumed.

Three maunds of duty-paid bhang were exported from Calcutta to French Chandernagore.

Charas.

53. Licenses and Revenue.—The number of retail licenses during the year under report was 33 against 35 in 1914-15. One shop was abolished in each of the districts of Howrah and Mymensingh. The total revenue amounted to Rs. 44,306 as compared with Rs. 48,883 in 1914-15. There was a fall of Rs. 5,477 in the receipts from license-fees, whilst receipts from duty increased by Rs. 900.

54. Imports and consumption.—The total quantity of charas imported was 20 maunds 28 seers against 19 maunds 30 seers in the preceding year. The wholesale dealers of Calcutta, Birbhum and Dinajpur imported the drug direct from the Punjab and supplied retail vendors in the other districts of the Presidency.

The total issues to retail shops in Bengal amounted to 19 maunds 25 seers as compared with 20 maunds 26 seers in 1914-15.

SECTION V.—Opium.

55. Restricted supply of opium to licensed shops.—The system under which the issue of opium to retail shops is restricted to the estimated local demand continued in Midnapore, Hooghly, Howrah, the 24-Parganas, Calcutta, Khulna, Bakarganj and Chittagong, and in a few shops in Birbhum. Nadia, Jessore and Malda. During the year restrictions were imposed on the issues to a few shops in the district of Dinajpur in which the consumption had given cause for suspicion in 1914-15. The special system of settling opium shops by lottery among persons previously approved by the Collector continued in Chittagong.

56. Licenses for retail sale.—The total number of licenses issued for the retail sale of opium was 824 against 859 in 1914-15. The decrease was due to the abolition of one shop in each of the districts of Hooghly, the 24-Parganas, Murshidabad, Mymensingh and Bogra, 2 each in Dacca and Dinajpur, 3 each in Burdwan, Midnapore, Nadia, Jessore, Rangpur and Malda, and 8 in Calcutta.

57. Druggists' permits.—The number of druggists' permits fell from 374 to 350, a decrease of 24. The number of licenses for the sale of poppy heads was 7 against 6 in the previous year.

58. Consumption.—The total quantity of opium consumed within the Presidency was 1,288 maunds 15 seers as compared with 1,554 maunds 11 seers in the previous year, a decrease of 265 maunds 36 seers.

Consumption decreased in 26 districts and increased in one. The increase occurred in Jalpaiguri and amounted to 17 seers. It was due to the influx of a large number of Assamese coolies to work in the tea gardens in the Duars. The decrease exceeded 10 per cent. in Malda (36·2 per cent. or 624 seers), Bakarganj (30·2 per cent. or 133 seers), Darjeeling (26·0 per cent. or 87 seers), Bankura (25·5 per cent. or 236 seers), Dinajpur (23·3 per cent. or 259 seers), Calcutta (22·7 per cent. or 4,628 seers), Murshidabad (22·6 per cent. or 353 seers), Pabna (22·4 per cent. or 102 seers), Bogra (22·3 per cent. or 108 seers), Birbhum (19·8 per cent. or 257 seers), Midnapore (19·4 per cent. or 1,244 seers), Rangpur (17·9 per cent. or 288 seers), Burdwan (17·7 per cent. or 592 seers), Jessore (14·5 per cent. or 122 seers), Rajshahi (13·9 per cent. or 101 seers), Dacca (13·3 per cent. or 177 seers), and Faridpur (11·9 per cent. or 80 seers). The decrease also exceeded 100 seers in Hooghly (263 seers), the 24-Parganas (282 seers), and Nadia (112 seers).

The decrease was due partly to a decrease in the demand for local consumption and partly to the effects of the restrictive system and preventive operations in reducing the quantity available for sale to smugglers. It was intended that the enhancement of the treasury price of opium to Rs. 40 per seer should have the effect of increasing the retail price to Rs. 60 per seer in shops in which it was less than that figure. This object was attained except in a few shops in Jalpaiguri and Rangpur, and even in those districts the average price of opium increased. Coming as it did in a year of economic depression, the general increase in the retail price of opium naturally resulted in a decrease in local consumption.

Statistics regarding the consumption of opium are, however, complicated by the fact that a certain amount of the opium which is issued to shops finds its way into the hands of smugglers. Economic conditions and high retail prices have little effect upon the demand for opium for the purpose of smuggling—in fact a decrease in the demand for local consumption tends to render supplies more easily available and places greater temptation in the way of vendors. It is to meet this difficulty that, in cases in which the restrictive system is in force, vendors, who find that their allotments are in excess of the local demand, are permitted to apply for a reduction of their allotments and a proportionate reduction of license-fees, which is granted, with effect from the beginning of the financial year, if it is found by enquiry that the decreased consumption is not due to an attempt on the part of vendors to realise extortionate prices. This arrangement undoubtedly prevented the issue of a large quantity of opium which, if it had been issued, would inevitably have been sold to smugglers. At the same time the fact that three cases were detected in Calcutta and one each in Burdwan and Midnapore, in which opium was smuggled from licensed shops, shows that smugglers were still at work. The cancellation of the licenses in these cases had a salutary effect upon other vendors, and it was in these districts and in Malda (where the increase in the retail price was greatest) that the largest actual decreases, amounting to two-thirds of the total decrease in the Presidency, occurred. It may, I think, fairly be claimed that the restrictive system and preventive measures have had the effect of materially reducing the supplies of opium available for smuggling in Bengal, though a certain quantity of opium was smuggled, especially during the earlier months of the year, and some shops are still under suspicion. At the same time, the large quantity of opium seized during the year indicates that smugglers have had no difficulty in making up elsewhere for any curtailment of supplies in this Presidency.

59. Total receipts.—The total receipts amounted to Rs. 31,35,892 against Rs. 29,22,324, showing an increase of Rs. 2,13,568 or 7·3 per cent., whilst consumption decreased by 17·1 per cent.

60. Madak and Chandu.—The habit of opium smoking was prevalent in some districts, notably in Burdwan, Birbhum, Midnapore, Hooghly, Calcutta, Nadia, Murshidabad, Dacca, and Malda. Except in parts of the Nadia and Malda districts, it is believed that the habit is not spreading. The Collector of Midnapore, however, again reports that the present rules have not proved effective in checking it.

61. Morphia and Opium pills.—The use of morphia as a substitute for opium is reported to exist to a limited extent in Hooghly and Calcutta, and is reported to be spreading to Nadia. The use of opium pills has been reported from Jalpaiguri, where two cases of illicit sale were detected. In one case the pills were being sold by a Punjabi as a cure for the opium habit. In the other the pills contained a mixture of bhang and opium and were sold extensively as a medicine. Both cases ended in conviction.

SECTION VI.—Cocaine.

64. Licenses and revenue.—Two hundred and four licenses were issued during the year to chemists, druggists, qualified medical practitioners and dentists for the sale of cocaine as compared with 220 in 1914-15. The license-fees realized amounted to Rs. 221 against Rs. 220 in the preceding year. Thirty licenses for the possession of cocaine were issued free to managers of hospitals or dispensaries not under Government supervision, viz., 22 licenses for tea gardens in Jalpaiguri, 3 for charitable dispensaries in Calcutta, 3 in Midnapore, 1 in Burdwan, and 1 in Murshidabad.

65. Preventive operations and illicit transactions.—The abuse of cocaine continues in Calcutta and the neighbouring parts of the 24-Parganas, in the Serampore and part of the Sadar subdivisions of the district of Hooghly, in the towns of Burdwan, Asansol and Raniganj and in Dacca city. Cases of illicit possession or sale were also detected in Midnapore, Nadia and Khulna.

The number of persons convicted of illicit possession or sale of cocaine in Calcutta decreased from 1,159 to 1,001. This cannot, however, be regarded as an indication that there is any decrease in the habit; it is mainly due to the fact that the energies of Excise officers were directed more against the larger dealers and less against the petty hawkers and consumers than in the previous year. Excise officers seized 509 ounces of cocaine as compared with 64 ounces in 1914-15 and successfully prosecuted a leading member of one of the largest and best known gangs, besides four other considerable dealers. The Customs officers did extremely good work and seized 826 ounces as compared with 779 ounces in the previous year, whilst 46 ounces were seized by the Police.

The illicit trade is regularly organized. The leading smugglers receive consignments at frequent intervals and distribute the drug to illicit dealers in Calcutta and elsewhere. Cocaine is frequently sent up-country in exchange for opium. These dealers again distribute it to smaller dealers or hawkers or to consumers. The hawkers deal only in small packets, containing a grain or two of cocaine, and it is in this form that the drug usually reaches the consumer. It is reported that there are very few localities where these packets are not sold. There is little hope of dealing effectively with this abuse unless the source of the cocaine can be reached. As the war has apparently made no difference to the ease with which cocaine can be obtained, though practically all the cocaine seized is of German origin, this would appear to be a matter of some difficulty. The situation in Calcutta is, however, so serious that it is most desirable that an attempt should be made.

The total quantity of cocaine seized in Bengal was 86 lbs. 12 oz. 25 grains (avoirdupois) against 62 lbs. 5 oz. 102 grains in the previous year.

SECTION VII.—Offences against the Excise and Opium laws.

* * * * * *

67. Arrests and convictions.—The total number of persons arrested during the year was 4,780 as compared with 3,935 in the previous year: 4,226 persons were convicted against 3,589 in 1914-15. The increase in the number of arrests was mainly due to the closer supervision exercised by whole-time Superintendents, to larger establishments, or to both these causes. It was marked in Calcutta (292), Midnapore (203), Birbhum (74), Jessore (60), Rajshahi (60), Murshidabad (58), and Jalpaiguri (50). * * *

MEMORANDUM ON THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF EXCISE AND SALT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EXCISE DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1915-16.

THE report on the administration of the Excise Department for 1915-16 calls for little comment, the chief feature being the continued decline in consumption. In spite of the considerable decrease noticed in the previous year country spirit showed a further falling off of 52,799 proof gallons and ganja and opium of 446 and 266 maunds respectively. This reduction in consumption was general throughout the Presidency with the exception of one district, Jalpaiguri. Here the decrease under ganja was counter-balanced by an increase under opium and country spirit. This is attributable to the flourishing condition of the tea industry, and as regards opium to an influx of Assamese coolies to the gardens. The general falling off in the rest of the Presidency was due to the combination of administrative and economic factors noted in the memorandum on the report for 1914-15.

2. During the year the new re-organisation scheme was carried further into effect, but it has not yet been possible to bring the cadre of inspectors up to its full strength and the re-adjustment of the grading will still take time to complete.

3. The system of Advisory Committees throughout the districts and of Licensing Boards in Calcutta and the neighbouring municipalities remained in force. The recommendations of the Advisory Committees were accepted in the majority of cases. In accordance with these recommendations 61 sites were changed, 20 shops abolished and two new shops sanctioned. In only 11 cases was it found impracticable to adopt the recommendations of the Advisory Committees for a change of site. As regards the abolition of shops, the Excise authorities were unable in 19 cases to accept the recommendations of the Advisory Committees; but against this must be set the fact that in 18 cases the Excise authorities felt bound to reject proposals made by Advisory Committees for the opening of new shops. Turning to the Licensing Boards of Calcutta and its suburbs, their recommendations were all accepted and with one exception were carried into effect.

4. The total excise revenue showed a decrease of Rs. 2,29,346, being Rs. 1,51,30,570 against Rs. 1,53,59,916 in the previous year. The only heads which showed an increase were spirits manufactured in India paying higher duties than country spirit (Rs. 31,330), pachwai (Rs. 27,986), opium (Rs. 2,13,568) and bhang (Rs. 2,693). The most noteworthy increase is in the revenue derived from opium. This occurred in spite of the considerable reduction in consumption already mentioned. It is to be attributed partly to the increase in the treasury price which was introduced from the 1st April 1915 and partly to increased competition for licenses following on higher retail prices and increased profits. The more than countervailing decrease of revenue under other heads has been fully explained by the Commissioner of Excise and calls for no further comment. The net result was that the incidence of excise revenue fell to 5 annas 4 pies from 5 annas 5 pies in the previous year.

5. A special staff has been organized in connection with the Excise Intelligence Bureau to cope with the operations of smugglers, and the efforts of the preventive side of the department and of the Customs officials met with considerable success. The Customs officials did particularly well in connection with opium, effecting two record seizures: they also made large seizures of cocaine, while the Excise officers seized no less than 509 oz. of this drug as compared with only 64 oz. in the previous year. The deleterious cocaine habit shows no signs of decreasing, and the decrease in the number of convictions for illicit possession is explained by the fact that the energies of the preventive officers were directed against the larger rather than the petty dealers. Owing to the high degree of organization obtaining in this trade great difficulties are encountered in bringing to justice those who are really responsible, and Government note with satisfaction the success already attained in dealing with the directors of these illicit operations.

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

General Letter No. 11.

To

THE DISTRICT AND SESSIONS JUDGE / DISTRICT MAGISTRATE / DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF

Calcutta, the 18th September 1916.

HIGH COURT: ENGLISH DEPARTMENT; Civil / Criminal.

SIR,

IT has been brought to the notice of the High Court that inconvenience is entailed on European litigants in the mufassal owing to the practice obtaining in some courts of issuing processes to them in the vernacular only. As summonses and other forms in connection with civil and criminal cases are printed in English as well as in the vernaculars, the omission to use the English version in the case of Europeans seems to the Judges to indicate a lack of thought and intelligence on the part of the issuing courts.

2. The Judges accordingly direct that processes to Europeans, of which English versions have been prescribed by the High Court,* should invariably be issued in that language; and I am to request that you will be so good as to see that these instructions are strictly complied with in your district.

* Vide Appendix D, Volume II of the High Court's G. R. and C. O., Civil, and Appendix C, ibid, Criminal.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

H. M. VEITCH,
Registrar.

FIELD OPERATIONS.

No. 1209.—A despatch by Lieutenant-General Sir P. H. N. Lake, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., on the operations of Indian Expeditionary Force "D" from the 19th January to the 30th April 1916, is published for general information :

No. 168-31-O.

General Headquarters,
I. E. F. "D."

Dated the 12th August 1916.

FROM

LIEUTENANT-GENERAL SIR P. H. N. LAKE, K.C.B., K.C.M.G.,
Commanding Indian Expeditionary Force "D."

To

THE CHIEF OF THE GENERAL STAFF,
Army Headquarters, Simla, India.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to submit a despatch describing the operations of the Force under my command, from January 19th, 1916, the date of my assuming command, up to April 30th, 1916.

2. Sir John Nixon's last despatches, dated January 17th, referred to General Aylmer's advance from Ali Gharbi; his capture of the Turkish position at Shaikh Saad after severe fighting on the 6th, 7th and 8th January; the battle of 13th and 14th January on the Wadi River, and the retreat of the enemy to an entrenched position across the Umm-al-Hannah defile.

3. The period now under report includes three phases in the further attempt to relieve Kut:—

1st Phase.—19th to 23rd January.—Unsuccessful attempt to force the Hannah defile.

Commander—Lieutenant-General Sir F. Aylmer.

2nd Phase.—24th January to 10th March.—A period of rest and reorganisation, followed by the unsuccessful attempt to outflank the enemy's right in the vicinity of the Dujailah Redoubt.

Commander—Lieutenant-General Sir F. Aylmer.

3rd Phase.—11th March to 30th April.—A brief period of preparation, followed by the attack and capture of the Hannah and Falahiyah positions: failure to force the Sannaiyat position; and fall of Kut.

Commander—Lieutenant-General Sir G. F. Gorringe.

4. The general position of affairs on the Tigris front on January 19th, 1916, was that the bulk of General Aylmer's force, after the heavy fighting referred to in paragraph 2, was encamped on the left bank of the Tigris, above the Wadi River; the advanced troops were in touch with the Turks entrenched in their Umm-al-Hannah position. General Aylmer was actively engaged in re-organising his force for a further advance with the least possible delay. He fully realised that an immediate advance must involve some deficiencies in his organisation and fighting strength, but was influenced by the following factors:—

(i) General Townshend's reports as to the limit of his food supplies, and the influence of food supply questions generally on the operations of the relieving column.

(ii) General Townshend's anxiety about the sufficiency of his ammunition supply and the condition of some of his troops.

(iii) The rapidity with which the Turks might be able to reinforce the troops opposed to General Townshend, and the desirability of forestalling them.

It was, I understand, these three considerations that had mainly influenced my predecessor in ordering General Aylmer to advance as early in January as possible with the force which would then be concentrated at Ali Gharbi.

It was not until after the heavy fighting for the Hannah position on January 21st that General Townshend's report of January 25th, 1916—to the effect that as regards food supplies he could hold out for another 84 days—reached General Headquarters.

5. The difficulty experienced in pushing up reinforcements, supplies and munitions of war to the front seriously affected the operations.

The number of steamers available in Janurry 1916 for river transport purposes was practically the same as when, in June 1915, the first advance up the Tigris took place. Additional river craft had from time to time been demanded as augmentations to the force in Mesopotamia were decided upon, but, owing to the peculiar conditions which vessels intended for the intricate navigation of the Tigris have to satisfy, the provision of these vessels was a difficult problem, necessarily entailing long delays, and the supply was never able to keep pace with the requirements of the force.

In consequence of this, it was never possible during the period now under report either to concentrate at the Tigris front the whole of the forces available in the country, or to equip such forces as could be concentrated there with sufficient transport to make them mobile and enable them to operate freely at any distance from the river.

It was always necessary, therefore, for General Headquarters to balance most carefully the flow of reinforcements and supplies, so that the former should not outrun the latter.

1st Phase. 19th to 23rd January.

6. After the battle of Wadi River, General Aylmer's leading troops had followed the retreating Turks to the Umm-al-Hannah position and entrenched themselves at the mouth of the defile, so as to shut the enemy in and limit his power of taking the offensive.

7. The weather at this period was extraordinarily unfavourable. Heavy rains caused the river to come down in flood, and overflow its banks, and converted the ground on either bank into a veritable bog.

Our bridge across the Wadi was washed away several times, while the boisterous winds greatly interfered with the construction of a bridge across the Tigris, here some 400 yards in width.

8. It was essential to establish artillery on the right bank of the Tigris so as to support, by enfilading fire, the attack of our infantry against the Hannah position.

9. Guns and troops were ferried across, with difficulty, owing to the high wind and heavy squalls of rain; but by the 19th all troops allotted to the right bank had crossed over and were established in the positions from which they were required to co-operate with the main force on the left bank.

10. Meanwhile the leading infantry brigades on the left bank had pushed nearer the enemy. January the 20th was devoted to a systematic bombardment of his position, and during the night the infantry pushed forward their advanced line to within 200 yards of the enemy's trenches.

11. On the morning of the 21st, under cover of an intensive artillery bombardment, our infantry moved to the attack

On our right the troops got to within 100 yards of the enemy's line but were unable to advance further. Our left column, consisting of the Black Watch, 6th Jats and 41st Dogras, penetrated the front line with a rush, capturing trenches which they held for about an hour and a half. Supports were sent forward, but, losing direction and coming under heavy fire, failed to reach them. Thus, left unsupported, our previously successful troops, when Turkish counter-attacks developed, were overwhelmed by numbers and forced to retire.

12. Heavy rain now began to fall and continued throughout the day. Telephone communication broke down, and communication by orderly became slow and uncertain.

After further artillery bombardment the attack was renewed at 1 P.M., but by this time the heavy rain had converted the ground into a sea of mud, rendering rapid movement impossible. The enemy's fire was heavy and effective, inflicting severe losses, and though every effort was made, the assault failed.

Our troops maintained their position until dark and then slowly withdrew to the main trenches which had been previously occupied, some 1,300 yards from those of the enemy.

13. As far as possible all the wounded were brought in during the withdrawal, but their sufferings and hardships were acute under the existing climatic conditions, when vehicles and stretcher-bearers could scarcely move in the deep mud.

14. To renew the attack on the 22nd was not practicable. The losses on the 21st had been heavy, the ground was still a quagmire and the troops exhausted. A six hours' armistice was arranged, in order to bury the dead and remove the wounded to shelter.

15. I cannot sufficiently express my admiration for the courage and dogged determination of the force engaged. For days they bivouacked in driving rain on soaked and sodden ground. Three times they were called upon to advance over a perfectly flat country, deep in mud, and absolutely devoid of cover, against well constructed and well planned trenches, manned by a brave and stubborn enemy approximately their equal in numbers. They showed a spirit of endurance and self-sacrifice of which their country may well be proud.

2nd Phase. 24th January to 10th March.

16. The hurried improvisation of temporary brigades, divisions, etc., with which the force had been obliged to commence its advance from Ali

Gharbi was now showing its inherent weakness. Divisions and brigades, the units of which knew each other and had served together in France, had perforce been broken up to meet the difficulties of transport on a long sea voyage. There had been no time on arrival in Mesopotamia to await belated units. In many cases, Field Ambulances had arrived after the combatant units. Brigade and divisional formations had been made up with such units as were first available. This was a severe handicap to the troops, and steps were now taken to reconstitute formations as far as possible in their original condition.

17. Throughout the month of February, preparations were made for resuming the offensive. Reinforcements were pushed up from the Base by steamer and route march; reorganisation and training were carried on at the front. On the left bank our trenches were again pushed forward towards the Hannah position. Frequent reconnaissances were made by land and air on both banks. During this period no severe fighting took place, though several minor operations were undertaken to gain information and to harass the enemy. On February 11th the bridge which had been destroyed by floods on January 14th was replaced.

18. The situation at the end of February was briefly as follows:—

On the left bank, the enemy, having been reinforced, still held the Hannah position in force; further in rear were other defensive lines, at Falahiyah, Sannaiyat, Nakhailat, and along the northern part of the Es Sinn position. All except the last named had been constructed since the battle of Hannah on 21st January. They were all protected on both flanks by the Tigris and the Suwaikieh Marsh respectively. On the right bank, the Es Sinn position constituted the Turkish main line of defence, with an advanced position near Beit Aiessa. The right flank of the Es Sinn position rested on the Dujailah Redoubt, which lay some five miles south of the river and 14 miles south-west of the British lines on the right bank.

19. It was decided to attack the Turkish right flank and Dujailah Redoubt, as the first step towards the relief of Kut before the arrival of the flood season, expected about the middle of March. It was feared that, as soon as the Tigris came down in flood, the Turks would cut the bunds and so flood the country as to render further offensive operations impracticable.

The whole area was so flat that there was hardly any portion of it which could safely be said to be above flood level.

20. General Aylmer made his arrangements accordingly. He decided not to wait for further reinforcements, but to advance with the maximum force for which land transport could be made available with two days' food and water. To conceal his intentions during the period of preparation, our artillery on both banks engaged the enemy's trenches on the left bank, whilst the force in front of the Hannah position displayed great activity.

21. Operations were again interruped at the beginning of March by adverse weather conditions. This delay was unfortunate, as it gave time to the enemy to construct trenches closing the gap which had hitherto existed between the Dujailah Redoubt and the Hai River.

22. On the afternoon of March 7th, General Aylmer assembled his subordinate commanders and gave his final instructions, laying particular stress on the fact that the operation was designed to effect a surprise; and that, to prevent the enemy forestalling us, it was essential that the first phase of the operation, i.e., the capture of the Dujailah Redoubt, should be pushed through with the utmost vigour.

23. His dispositions were briefly as follows:—

The greater part of a division under General Younghusband, assisted by Naval Gunboats, contained the enemy on the left bank. The remaining troops were formed into two columns, under General Kemball and General Keary, respectively, a reserve of infantry and the Cavalry Brigade being held at the Corps Commander's own disposal. Kemball's column, covered on the outer flank by the Cavalry Brigade, was to make a turning movement to attack the Dujailah Redoubt from the south, supported by the remainder of the force operating from a position to the east of the Redoubt.

24. The night march by this large force, which led across the enemy's front to a position on his right flank, was a difficult operation, entailing movement over unknown ground and requiring most careful arrangements to attain success. Thanks to excellent staff work and good march discipline, the troops reached their allotted positions apparently undiscovered by the enemy, but while Keary's column was in position at daybreak ready to support Kemball's attack, the latter's command did not reach the point selected for its deployment, in the Dujailah depression, until more than an hour later. This delay was highly prejudicial to the success of the operation.

25. In spite of their late arrival the presence of so large a force seems to have been quite unexpected by the Turks, as Dujailah Redoubt was apparently lightly held when our columns reached their allotted positions. Prompt and energetic action would probably have forestalled the enemy's reinforcements. But time was lost by waiting for the guns to register and to carry out reconnaissances, and when, nearly three hours later, Kemball's troops advanced to the attack, they were strongly opposed by the enemy from trenches cleverly concealed in the brushwood, and were unable to make further ground for some time, though assisted by Keary's attack upon the Redoubt from the east.

The southern attack was now reinforced and by 1 P.M. had pushed forward to within 500 yards of the Redoubt, but concealed trenches again stopped further progress and the Turks made several counter-attacks with reinforcements which had by now arrived from the direction of Magasis.

26. It was about this time that the Corps Commander received from his Engineer officers the unwelcome news that the water supply contained in rain-water pools in the Dujailah depression, upon which he had reckoned, was insufficient, and could not be increased by digging. It was clear therefore that unless the Dujailah Redoubt could be carried that day, the scarcity of water would of itself compel our troops to fall back. Preparations were accordingly made for a further assault on the Redoubt and at 5-15 P.M. attacks were launched from the south and east under cover of a heavy bombardment. The 9th and 28th Infantry Brigades got within 200 yards of the southern face where they were held up by heavy fire, although reinforced. Meanwhile, the 8th Infantry Brigade supported by the 37th had assaulted from the east; the two leading battalions of the former, the Manchesters and 59th Rifles, and some of the 37th Infantry Brigade, succeeded in gaining a foot-hold in the Redoubt. But here they were heavily counter-attacked by large enemy reinforcements, and being subjected to an extremely rapid and accurate shrapnel fire from concealed guns in the vicinity of Sinn Aftar, they were forced to fall back to the position from which they started.

27. The troops, who had been under arms for some 30 hours including a long night march, were now much exhausted, and General Aylmer considered that a renewal of the assault during the night 8th-9th March could not be made with any prospect of success. Next morning the enemy's position was found to be unchanged, and General Aylmer, finding himself faced with the deficiency of water already referred to, decided upon the immediate withdrawal of his force to Wadi, which was reached the same night.

28. The evacuation of our wounded had preceded our retirement. The first parties of wounded reached Wadi at 4 P.M. on March 9th, and the last wounded man was attended to in hospital at that place at 2 A.M., March 10th. The Corps Commander speaks in high terms of the gallantry and devotion displayed by officers and subordinates of the Medical Service and Army Bearer Corps during the fighting. They collected and attended to the wounded under heavy fire in a manner which called forth the admiration of the whole force.

3rd Phase. 11th March to 30th April.

29. No further operations of any importance occurred during March, though minor engagements took place on the right bank, in which enemy trenches were taken and prisoners captured. But rain fell, and the Tigris came down in heavy flood on March 15th, causing extensive inundations which compelled our troops to evacuate their advanced positions on that bank. For the remainder of the month there was a strenuous struggle with the inundations, to prevent the whole country being flooded. Every available man was engaged in digging embankments, and operations were temporarily suspended.

30. On March 12th, Major-General Sir G. F. Gorringe succeeded to the command of the Corps. Fresh troops now began to arrive up-rivêr and it was decided to renew active operations as soon as this reinforcement was complete. Careful investigations were made, meanwhile, as to the feasibility of an advance on Kut by the right bank from Shaikh Saad, but as enquiry showed that the country along this route was not flood proof and would be liable to inundation by the breaking of the bunds on the right bank of the Tigris, which were under Turkish control, it was decided that conditions were more favourable for an attack on the Hannah position, and an advance up the left bank.

Preparations were accordingly made for putting this plan into action.

31. The VII Division had been engaged in sapping up to the enemy's front trenches, continually under heavy fire and hampered by floods. By March 28th, their sap-heads were 150 yards from the Turkish front line.

On April 1st, the XIII Division moved up from Shaikh Saad to relieve them in the front trenches preparatory to the assault. Heavy rain fell, however, on this and the following day, and floods rendered some of the positions of our troops on the right bank untenable. The ground became impassable, and operations had to be postponed.

32. By the evening of April 4th, the ground had dried sufficiently for the assault. At daylight the next morning the XIII Division jumped out of their trenches and rushed the Turkish first and second lines in quick succession. Our artillery and machine guns at once opened on the third and other lines in rear, and by 7 A.M. the whole position was in our hands.

33. The attack on Hannah had been prepared with the greatest care, and was brilliantly executed by General Maude and the XIII Division. The enemy's position was a maze of deep trenches occupying a frontage of only 1,300 yards between the Tigris and the Suwaikieh Marsh, and extending for 2,600 yards from front to rear. Although it was lightly held by the Turks with a few companies and some machine guns, it was a position of great strength.

34. Meanwhile, on the right bank, the III Division had been gaining ground. In the morning the 8th Infantry Brigade, led by the Manchesters, captured the Turkish position on Abu Roman mounds. An attempt by the enemy to recapture this position in the afternoon was beaten off.

During the day the river rose considerably, and it was evident that a fresh flood was coming down. This pointed to the urgency of capturing the Falahiyah and Sannaiyat positions, 3 and 6 miles respectively west of the Hannah position, before the rising river should enable the Turks to flood the country between us, by opening the bunds.

35. After nightfall a heavy bombardment was directed on the Falahiyah position from 7-15 P.M. to 7-30 P.M., after which the XIII Division assaulted and captured a series of deep trenches in several lines. The position was stubbornly held by about 3 battalions of Turks, but by 9-30 P.M it was completely in our hands and consolidated.

The 38th Infantry Brigade and the Warwicks and Worcesters of the 39th Infantry Brigade did particularly well in this assault. High praise is due to Major-General Maude, his brigade commanders and all under their commands for this successful night attack. The Division suffered some 1,300 casualties during the day.

36. The VII Division, which had hitherto been in support, now moved forward, and passing through the XIII Division, took up a position about two miles east of Sannaiyat, ready to attack the northern portion of these entrenchments at dawn on April 6th. The line of direction was to be maintained by moving with the left flank along a communication trench which joined the Falahiyah and Sannaiyat positions. Previous reconnaissance of the terrain to be traversed had of course been impossible during daylight, as it was then still occupied by the Turks.

37. The passage, however, of numerous and deep cross trenches so hampered the advance that, at dawn, when the assault was to have taken place, the troops were still some 2,300 yards from the enemy's position. This delay was fatal to their chance of success, as the ground was perfectly flat and without any vestige of cover. In these circumstances it would have been wiser to have postponed the attack at the last moment. The advance was however continued with the greatest gallantry under heavy artillery and machine gun fire, to within 700 yards of the Turkish trenches. Here the attacking lines were checked, and eventually fell back on to the supporting 3rd line, where they dug themselves in at about 1,000 yards from the enemy.

38. During the night of 5th-6th April and throughout the 6th the river rose steadily, until at mid-day it reached the highest level of the year. The wind changed to the north and blew the water of the Suwaikieh Marsh southwards across the right of the VII Division; protecting bunds along both the Tigris and the edge of the marsh had then to be constructed under the enemy's fire. Our guns were surrounded by floods, and for some time the position was distinctly critical.

The Marsh continued to encroach so much on the ground occupied by the VII Division that all efforts had to be devoted to securing from the floods the positions already gained. On the right bank the inundations rendered communication most difficult, and threatened to isolate the III Division altogether. On April 8th, in face of many difficulties, a new bridge over the Tigris was completed at Falahiyah.

39. During the night 8th-9th April the XIII Division took the place of the VII Division in the trenches, and at 4-20 A.M. advanced to the assault on Sannaiyat When within 300 yards of the enemy's front line they were discovered by the Turks, who sent up "Very" lights and flares and opened a heavy rifle and gun fire. The first line, including detachments of the 6th K.O. Royal Lancaster Regiment, 8th Welsh Fusiliers, 6th L. North Lancashire Regiment and 5th Wiltshire Regiment, penetrated the centre of the enemy's front line trench. In the glare of the lights the second line lost direction, wavered, and fell back on the third and fourth lines. Support thus failed to reach the front line at the critical moment, in spite of the most gallant and energetic attempts of officers concerned to remedy matters.

Our troops who had reached the enemy's trenches were heavily counter-attacked by superior numbers and driven back to from 300 to 500 yards from the enemy's line, where brigades dug themselves in.

40. I had been at Wadi in close touch with the Corps Commander since April 6th, and after the failure of this attack, we met and discussed the situation together in detail. While it was clearly very desirable to secure the Sannaiyat position with its obvious advantages, yet we had to bear in mind how very short the time at our disposal was if Kut was to be relieved and the delay which a systematic approach by sapping right up to the position must involve. It was therefore decided that another attempt to force the enemy's right about the Sinn Aftar Redoubt offered prospects of speedier success,.

41. General Gorringe accordingly proceeded to make the necessary arrangements for this move. As will be understood, it involved securing the control of the river bunds which were covered by the enemy's advanced position at Beit Aiessa, and establishing communications across the intervening flooded areas which must be traversed before we could reach that position. It should be borne in mind that there is no such thing as a road, in the sense in which we use the word, in this part of the country, and that no road material or metalling of any sort exists; yet in order to supply the troops with food and ammunition when they should have succeeded in crossing the inundations, some sort of permanent track above flood level, along which transport could work, was essential.

42. The VII Division now again took over and pushed forward the trench work in front of Sannaiyat as far as constant interruptions by floods would permit. The XIII Division was held back near Falahiyah Bridge in reserve.

43. On April 12th, the III Division, advancing across belts of inundation intersected by deep cuts, drove in the enemy's piquets east of Beit Aiessa and occupied their outpost line, consolidating their position during the night.

On April 15th and 16th, some of the enemy's advanced trenches were captured and counter-attacks were repulsed. Our new line was consolidated by night, guns were moved forward and preparations were made for the attack of the main Beit Aiessa position on the morning of the 17th.

44. Under cover of an intense bombardment the 7th and 9th Infantry Brigades advanced at 6-45 A.M. and actually reached the Turkish trenches before our artillery fire lifted. When the bombardment ceased they leapt into the trenches, bayonetted numbers of the enemy and the Beit Aiessa position was soon in our hands. The enemy left 200 to 300 dead in the trenches and 180 prisoners were captured.

These operations, culminating in the capture of Beit Aiessa, reflect great credit on Major-General Keary and the troops under his command. Steady and consistent progress was made day after day in spite of most difficult conditions and often with a shortage of rations which the transport was heavily strained to bring forward.

45. Orders were now issued for the XIII Division to move up in relief of the III Division, after dark, the latter to concentrate on the left rear of the XIII preparatory to further operations next day.

46. At 5 P.M. the enemy's artillery commenced to bombard Beit Aiessa and to establish a barrage in rear of the III Division, sweeping the passage through the swamps along which its communications lay. An hour later a very strong counter-attack came from the south-west. In spite of heavy shelling from our guns the attack was pressed home against the 9th Infantry Brigade, from which a double company had been pushed forward to guard two captured guns which could not be brought in during daylight. In retiring the double company masked our fire; the 9th Infantry Brigade was pressed and gave ground, exposing the left of the 7th Infantry Brigade which was also forced back. Our troops rallied on the 8th Infantry Brigade which was holding its ground firmly on the left of the line, and on a portion of the 7th Infantry Brigade.

Reinforcements from the XIII Division were already moving forward, but owing to the darkness and boggy ground they were delayed and some hours elapsed before they arrived.

The attack which commenced at 6 P.M. was followed by a series of heavy attacks throughout the night, the 8th Infantry Brigade on the left repelling as many as six such attacks. But our line held firm, and the enemy retreated at dawn, having suffered losses estimated at 4,000 to 5,000 men.

47. In this engagement the following units particularly distinguished themselves by their steadiness and gallantry :—1st Battalion Connaught Rangers, 27th Punjabis, 89th Punjabis, 47th Sikhs and 59th Rifles—also the South Lancs., East Lancs., and Wiltshire Regiments. The 66th and 14th Batteries Royal Field Artillery did good service, also the 23rd Mountain Battery, which expended all its ammunition, and did great execution at close range. Generals Egerton and Campbell, who commanded the brigades most heavily engaged, set a fine example of coolness and gallantry in the hand-to-hand fighting which took place.

Although the enemy had suffered heavy losses and had failed to obtain any success after their initial rush, they had checked our advance and regained that portion of Beit Aiessa nearest the river which included the bunds controlling the inundations. Its recapture was essential.

48. During the succeeding days some progress in this direction was made by trench fighting and by consolidating positions pushed out towards Sinn Aftar. The boggy nature of the ground made movement difficult, and many of the troops were worn out with fatigue.

Meanwhile on the left bank, although frequently interrupted by floods, the VII Division had been steadily pushing forward saps, and as there were some signs of a weakening of the enemy's forces at Sannaiyat, there appeared to be an opportunity to make another attempt to capture that position. The VII Division was ordered to prepare for an assault on the 20th supported by troops from the right bank. But on the afternoon of the 19th, the wind veered round to the north, water from the marsh flooding their trenches and the ground in front of them; the attack had therefore to be postponed

49. Throughout the 20th and 21st the Sannaiyat position was bombarded. Arrangements were made for the assault to take place next morning on a front which eventually had to be reduced to that of one brigade, the extreme width of passable ground being only 300 yards. After preliminary bombardment, the VII Division advanced, the 19th Infantry Brigade leading. Besides our artillery on both banks, massed machine guns on the right bank covered our advance. The leading troops carried the enemy's first and second lines in their immediate front, several of the trenches being flooded, but only a few men were able to reach the third line.

50. Large Turkish reinforcements now came up. They delivered a strong counter-attack, which was repulsed. A second counter-attack however succeeded in forcing our troops back, as many men were unable to use their rifles, which had become choked with mud in crossing the flooded trenches, and so were unable to reply to the enemy's fire. By 8-40 A.M., our men were back in their own trenches.

51. By mutual consent parties went out, under the Red Cross and Red Crescent flags, to collect their respective wounded. The Turkish casualties appear to have been heavy as they were evacuating wounded until nightfall. Our casualties amounted to about 1,300.

52. Persistent and repeated attempts on both banks had thus failed, and it was known that at the outside not more than 6 days' supplies remained to the Kut garrison. General Gorringe's troops were nearly worn out. The same troops had advanced time and again to assault positions strong by art and held by a determined enemy. For 18 consecutive days they had done all that men could do to overcome, not only the enemy, but also exceptional climatic and physical obstacles—and this on a scale of rations which was far from being sufficient, in view of the exertions they had undergone, but which the shortage of river transport had made it impossible to augment. The need for rest was imperative.

53 There remained but one chance if the relief of Kut was to be accomplished, and that was the introduction by some means of additional supplies into General Townshend s camp, which would enable him to hold out for a still longer period.

Faint as the chance was, the "Julnar" one of the fastest steamers on the river, had for some days been under preparation by the Royal Navy for an attempt to run the enemy's blockade.

54. At 8 P.M., on April 24th with a crew from the Royal Navy under Lieutenant Firman, R.N., assisted by Lieutenant-Commander Cowley, R.N.V.R., the "Julnar" carrying 270 tons of supplies, left Falahiyah in an attempt to reach Kut.

Her departure was covered by all artillery and machine gun fire that could be brought to bear, in the hope of distracting the enemy's attention. She was, however, discovered and shelled on her passage up the river. At 1 A.M., on the 25th General Townshend reported that she had not arrived and that at midnight a burst of heavy firing had been heard at Magasis, some 8½ miles from Kut by river, which had suddenly ceased.

There could be but little doubt that the enterprise had failed, and next day the Air Service reported the "Julnar" in the hands of the Turks at Magasis.

55. The leaders of this brave attempt, Lieutenant H. O. B. Firman, R. N., and his assistant Lieutenant-Commander C. H. Cowley, R.N.V.R.,—the latter of whom had throughout the campaign in Mesopotamia performed magnificent service in command of the "Medjidieh"—have been reported by the Turks to have been killed; the remainder of the gallant crew, including 5 wounded, are prisoners of war.

56. In the hope of prolonging the resistance of Kut for even a day or two the Royal Flying Corps and Royal Naval Air Service had dropped into Kut between April 16th and April 29th approximately 8 tons of supplies, besides fishing nets, medicines and specie.

Although these supplies could not materially alter the course of the siege, it was a performance which is deserving of high praise, for it involved a great strain on the pilots, and the journeys were subject to attacks by enemy aircraft of superior speed and fighting capacity. One of our machines was shot down while engaged on this supply service, another was damaged but brought home safely with great skill.

57. With the failure of the "Julnar" there was no further hope of extending the food limit of the garrison of Kut. Everything that was possible with the means to hand had been attempted. The troops only desisted from their efforts when, through battle losses, sickness and exhaustion, the limit of human endurance had been reached. On April 29th Kut surrendered.

I need not enlarge upon the bitter disappointment felt by all ranks on the Tigris Line at the failure of their attempt to relieve their comrades in Kut. It was mitigated by His Majesty the King's gracious message of May 7th, 1916, in which His Majesty expressed his feeling that his troops had done all that was humanly possible.

58. By the courtesy of the Turkish Commander-in-Chief Major-General Khalil Pasha, I was able to arrange, on April 30th and the following days, that all the more serious cases among the sick and wounded of the garrison of Kut should be handed over to me in exchange for an equivalent number of Turkish prisoners. In this connection I should like to acknowledge my indebtedness to Captain Hon. A Herbert, M.P., Irish. Guards, and Captain T. E. Lawrence, General Staff, Intelligence, Egypt, who greatly assisted me in these negotiations.

59. This report would be incomplete without some reference to occurrences in the other parts of Mesopotamia. During practically the whole period under review, neither the Turks on the Euphrates nor the Arab tribes in the vicinity of that river have given us any trouble. When however in January the advance against the hostile positions in front of Kut took place, it was thought advisable to make a demonstration northwards to a short distance from our advanced post at Nasiriyah, with a view to deterring as many of the hostile tribes on the Hai River as possible from joining forces with the enemy.

60. The major portion of the force at Nasiriyah accordingly moved out at the beginning of January and encamped in the neighbourhood of Butaniyah Lake. Early in February, when the object in view had been attained, the troops returned to Nasiriyah. On the return journey some of the villages, with whom friendly relations had hitherto obtained, apparently mistaking our movement for a retreat, treacherously attacked our rearguard. The attack was beaten off, a party of the Royal West Kents and the 30th Mountain Battery behaving very gallantly. A small force marched out the following morning from Nasiriyah, surprised and destroyed the offending villages in retaliation for their treachery.

Nothing of importance occurred on the Karun Line; that country and the neighbourhood of the Oilfields, as well as the country to the west and the south of Basrah, remaining quiet and undisturbed throughout the period under review.

61. When my predecessor, General Sir John Nixon, submitted his despatch of January 17th, 1916, he had had no opportunity of bringing to notice the names of those officers and men who had distinguished themselves during the actions at Shaikh Saad from 6th to 8th January, and at the Wadi River on 13th January 1916. I have therefore included them in this report.

62. I desire to place on record my appreciation of the services rendered by Lieutenant-General Sir F. Aylmer. Faced by great climatic and other difficulties, and unable, for reasons already referred to, to allow himself the time for reorganisation and preparation which under other circumstances he would have deemed essential, he applied himself to a difficult task with an energy, ability and determination which enable him twice to defeat a brave enemy at least equal to himself in numbers, and which would in all probability have carried him to success at the Umm-al-Hannah position but for weather conditions which proved an almost insurmountable obstacle.

Major General (temporary Lieutenant-General) Sir G. F. Gorringe has rendered valuable service to the State. As Chief of the Staff to the Tigris column from January 28th, and in command of the column from March 12th onwards he has shown untiring energy, ability and devotion, in dealing with the many difficult situations which he had to face. He is a commander of proved ability in the field.

Major-General C. V. F. Townshend has already shown himself a fine commander of troops in action and a tactician of no mean ability. It was mainly his personal example of cheerfulness, courage and resource which inspired the garrison of Kut to sustain a siege of nearly 5 months, under every sort of trial, until sheer starvation compelled surrender.

Major-General H. d'U. Keary, after commanding his division in France with distinction, has led it with resource and success throughout the operations under review. He could always be depended upon to handle his division with skill in any operation with which he was entrusted.

Colonel (temporary Major-General) H. T. Brooking has displayed much ability in his administration of the Euphrates area, and in the various minor operations which he has conducted.

63. This campaign in Mesopotamia has been one in which the difficulties experienced by the troops in actual contact with the enemy have been all but equalled by those which have had to be faced by the Headquarters and Lines of Communication Staffs and the Departments of the Army, upon whose exertions it depended that their comrades in the fighting line should be fed and supplied with the material they required to enable them to carry out their arduous task.

Major-General M. Cowper, as head of my Administrative Staff, has rendered most valuable service. His energy and ability when things threatened to go wrong and an awkward emergency had to be faced, have more than once saved the situation.

Major-General A. W. Money, as my principal staff officer, has shown himself an exceptionally able Chief of the General Staff. With wide experience and sound judgment, his advice has always been of the highest value to me on all occasions.

Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel W. H. Beach, R.E., has continued to me the valuable assistance which he rendered to my predecessor. As head of my Intelligence Section he has displayed a cool well-balanced judgment of no mean order.

64. To Rear Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., D.S.O., Naval Commander-in-Chief, East Indies, I am indebted for much useful advice and cordial co-operation. Captain Nunn, C.M.G., D.S.O., Commander Wason and the other officers of the Royal Navy have afforded us the able assistance which we have become accustomed to receive from them.

I have referred elsewhere to the daring attempt made by the S.S. "Julnar" to run the gauntlet of the Turkish defences. Knowing well the chances against them, all the gallant officers and men who manned that vessel for the occasion were volunteers, among them Engineer Sub-Lieutenant Lewis Reed, the regular Chief Engineer of the vessel. I trust that the services in this connection of Lieutenant H. O. B. Firman, R.N., and Lieutenant-Commander C. H. Cowley, R.N.V.R., his assistant, both of whom were unfortunately killed, may be recognised by the posthumous grant of some suitable honour.

65. The Air Service, which includes both the Royal Naval Air Service and the Royal Flying Corps, has distinguished itself throughout by hard work and devotion to duty, and the assistance which it has afforded to the other arms has been invaluable. Never fully manned, it found itself, towards the end of the last advance, very short-handed and faced by one or more enemy machines of considerably greater speed and fighting capacity, but its efficient work was nevertheless maintained.

66. The manner in which the Signal Service, only recently organised, and augmented from time to time with but partially trained men, has succeeded in carrying out its duties reflects credit upon both officers and men.

67. None know better than the officers of the Royal Indian Marine how inadequate to meet the ever increasing requirements of this force have been their resources, in personnel, in material, and especially in river craft. Their endeavours to satisfy those requirements have been unceasing, and the measure of success obtained has been highly creditable to all concerned. In addition to the permanent officers I would especially mention the temporary officers in command of the river steamers plying between the Tigris front and the Base, who, working always at high pressure and often under dangerous conditions, have displayed a patriotic devotion to duty worthy of high praise.

68. The energy and devotion to duty shown by the personnel of the Medical Services deserve commendation. Overworked and undermanned as they were during the advance in January—for the greater portion of the medical organisation then in the country had been shut up in Kut, and the medical units of the III and VII Divisions had only begun to arrive—they did their utmost with the means at their disposal to alleviate the sufferings of the sick and wounded. With the arrival in February of the first river hospital ship "Sikkim" and a steady increase in personnel, their power of dealing with the situation was considerably improved, as the action on March 8th showed.

69. No report on the Medical Services would be complete without reference to the splendid services rendered by Mr. T. A. Chalmers of Assam, who brought out, and himself drove, his specially designed motor boat "Ariel." He spent his whole time, frequently under fire, in conveying sick and wounded between collecting stations, field ambulances and river hospital craft, in a manner which no other boat in our possession could have imitated.

70. The Ordnance Services, under Colonel A. P. Douglas, with many serious difficulties to combat, have throughout worked quietly and efficiently to keep the force at the front supplied with the munitions they required

71. The Supply and Transport Corps have had their establishment seriously reduced from sickness and other causes, and have always worked at high pressure. They have been constantly confronted with the difficulty that sufficient river transport tonnage could not be allotted to them to admit of the full scale of rations being delivered at the front.

72. The Military Works Services, though having to compete with an enormous and ever increasing volume of demands with a staff whose increase was by no means commensurate, has carried through creditably an amount of work the sum total of which can only be realised by those who have seen it actually in progress.

73. The Remount and Veterinary Services, the Telegraph and Postal Departments have all worked very satisfactorily.

74. The Survey Department has performed valuable, if unostentatious work, often under very adverse conditions.

75. The Army Chaplains of all denominations have worked devotedly and given unstinted service to the force. In their ministrations to the wounded they have freely exposed themselves in the front line.

76. I wish to record my appreciation of the valuable work performed by the Officers of General Headquarters and my personal Staff, to whom I am much indebted for their loyal assistance on all occasions.

77. I would express my deep obligation to Lieutenant-Colonel Sir Percy Cox, Mr. Dobbs, I.C.S., and the officers of the Political Department for their valuable advice and assistance freely rendered on every occasion. The remarkably small amount of tribal interruption along our extensive Lines of Communication and the satisfactory condition of internal affairs throughout the occupied territory and adjoining districts are a high testimony to Lieutenant-Colonel Sir Percy Cox's ability, tact and experience.

78. Accompanying this despatch is a list of officers and men whose names I would bring to notice in connection with services rendered during the operations herein reported upon.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

P. LAKE, Lieutenant-General,

Commanding Indian Expeditionary Force "D."

The fees once paid will in no case be refunded or held over to the next examination, provided that in the case of a candidate who subsequently decides not to avail himself of the examination and intimates his decision to the examination board or committee concerned at least ten days before the examination the fee should be refunded. Candidates who fail to pass may present themselves for re-examination on payment of the full fee of Rs. 10, but on each such occasion the whole examination must be undergone, previous failure in any one subject being regarded as failure in all.

6. The following are the subjects of the examination :—

(1) A written translation of a difficult passage of English into the language of the examination with special regard to accuracy of idiom and neatness of expression.

(2) A written translation of a simpler passage of English in a narrative style, into the ordinary colloquial of the language.
(3) A general paper of grammar, idiom and prosody of the language of such a nature as to test the candidate's critical and comprehensive knowledge of the language.
(4) A conversational and colloquial test in English, including the viva voce explanation of such points in grammar, idiom, etc., as the examining officer may place before the candidate.

50 per cent. of the marks in each subject are required to pass. The names of candidates who obtain 80 per cent. of the marks in each subject will be distinguished in the published list by an asterisk to signify that they are considered especially competent to give advanced instruction in the language

7. No text books are prescribed for these examinations. Candidates may provide themselves with dictionaries for use in the two translation tests. Copies of papers set at previous examinations in Urdu may be had on application to the Secretary, Board of Examiners, Calcutta.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

Notification, dated 28th September 1916.—The subjoined abstract of the annual report and accounts of the District Road Committee of the Darjeeling district for the year 1915-16, together with the remarks of the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division thereon, is published for general information.

H. H. GREEN,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Extract from memo. No. $\frac{484P.W.}{XVI-8}$, dated the 24th August 1916, from H. F. SAMMAN, ESQ., I.C.S., Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

* * * * * * * * *

2. The expenditure during the year has fallen far short of the income, and the closing balance has increased in consequence. It is most undesirable that the District Road Fund should have large outstandings of loans from Government and at the same time allow their closing balance to grow so large. This is not consistent with Government order No. 5106R.C., dated the 26th September 1892, which is quoted in the report.

3. The year's work calls for no special remarks.

* * * * * * * * *

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Darjeeling, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the district for the year 1915-16.

[Vide letter No. 82R.F., dated the 26th June 1916, from J. T. Rankin, Esq., I.C.S., Chairman of the District Road Committee, Darjeeling, to the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division.]

1. Working of Committees.—(a) District Road Committee.—There were 18 members of the Committee—6 official and 12 non-official. Five meetings were held during the year. The average attendance was 10·6 or 58·88 per cent. at a meeting.

(b) Kurseong Branch Committee.—The total number of members of this Branch Committee was 10 — 3 official and 7 non-official. Three meetings were held during the year. The average attendance was 7·33 or 73·30 per cent. at a meeting.

(c) Terai Branch Committee.—Seventeen was the total number of members of this Branch Committee—4 official and 13 non-official. Altogether seven meetings were held during the year. The average attendance was 9·14 or 53·76 per cent. at a meeting.

2. The year opened with a cash balance of Rs. 32,145-15-2 and an outstanding advance of Rs. 11,096-10-2. The total amount of Rs. 1,14,771-2-4, including the outstanding advance of Rs. 11,096-10-2, was available for expenditure during the year. The actual expenditure during the year (1915-16) was Rs. 56,852-15-3, excluding the unadjusted advance of Rs. 16,724-10-1. The actual cash balance on the 31st March 1916 was Rs. 41,193-9. The closing balance of Rs. 57,918-3-1, which includes the unadjusted sum of Rs. 16,724-10-1, exceeds one quarter's kist. This accumulation, as a special case for this district, has been allowed by Government in its letter No. 5106R.C., dated 26th September 1892. It is, however, understood that a large sum out of this balance was spent by the Executive Engineer, Darjeeling Division, and other gentlemen in charge of roads and bridges, but no accounts having been received during the year it could not be adjusted. It is, however, hoped that the cash balance will be reduced to its normal proportion in 1916-17.

RECEIPTS.

3. Provincial Rates.—The road-cess was levied during the year 1915-16 in the district by the Committee at the maximum rate of six pies in the rupee. The total collection under the head "Cesses on lands" during the year 1915-16 was Rs. 56,531-8-5 against Rs. 53,315-6-2 of the preceding year. The increase is due to revaluation.

4. Miscellaneous.—A sum of Rs. 36-15-5 was collected under this head on account of sale-proceeds of certain old materials and refund of excess payments.

5. Contributions.—(a) Grant from Government.—A sum of Rs. 7,850-1-2 was received from Government, including Rs. 5,389 on account of augmentation of resources of the Committee, against Rs. 8,515-11-10 of the preceding year. The decrease is due to the less amount granted for augmentation and the less credit of the amount on account of 1½ per cent. collection from Government estates during the year.

(b) A contribution of Rs. 7,110 was received from the Darjeeling Improvement Fund towards communication and its share of the cost of the joint cess and tauji establishment.

EXPENDITURE.

COMMUNICATION.

6. Original works.—A sum of Rs. 2,351-11-10 only was adjusted under this head out of the advance for the estimated cost of Rs. 15,449 for two bridges. The bridges are practically completed, but no accounts having been received the expenditure could not be charged to the accounts of the year. A sum of Rs. 393 was credited by the Accountant-General, Bengal, against the cost already charged for dismantling the Chenga bridge and re-erecting it over the Bone river. The net amount of Rs. 1,958-11-10 has therefore been shewn under this head.

7. Repairs.—Rupees 31,826-3-7, as per details below, was spent under this head for repairs to roads and bridges, against Rs. 37,160-13-4 of the preceding year. The decrease is mainly due to the non-adjustment of certain amount actually spent during the year.

The thanks of the Committee are due to them for the valuable assistance rendered by them. The important road-cess bridges were repaired by the Public Works Department as heretofore at the cost of the Road Fund. A sum of Rs. 1,270-9-1 including contingencies, or 3·62 per cent. of the total outlay on works under the head "45—Civil Works (P. W. D.)," was spent for the entertainment of an overseer and a peon under the Terai Branch Road Committee. The pay of the overseer was Rs. 60 plus a fixed horse allowance of Rs. 20, and that of the peon Rs. 8 per mensem.

12. Contribution.—A sum of Rs. 8,398 was contributed to the Darjeeling Improvement Fund towards medical aid and water-supply.

13. Loans.—Rupees 5,939-15-6 as principal and Rs. 1,371-2-2 as interest were paid during the year 1915-16 under the terms of the loans granted by Government in 1900 and 1901 for repairs and reconstruction of bridges damaged and destroyed by the cyclone in September 1899. No fresh loan was taken during the year.

14. Administration.—There were two Branch Road Committees, viz., Kurseong and Terai, under the District Road Committee. Mr. J. T. Rankin, the Deputy Commissioner, was ex-officio Chairman of the District Road Committee and of the Terai Branch Road Committee, and Mr. F. G. E. Piffard, the Senior Deputy Collector of Darjeeling, was the Vice-Chairman of the District Road Committee throughout the year. Messrs. A. A. Paterson and H. G. Blomfield, the Subdivisional Officers of Kurseong, were the ex-officio Chairman of the Kurseong Branch Road Committee and Vice-Chairman of the Terai Branch Road Committee from 1st April to 18th November 1915 and 19th November 1915 to 31st March 1916, respectively. Dr. R. V. Dixon was the Vice-Chairman of the Kurseong Branch Road Committee for the whole year. The work of the District Committee as well as those of the Branch Committees was performed satisfactorily. The thanks of the Committee are due to the abovenamed gentlemen and other members of the District and Branch Committees for the care and interest taken by them in the discharge of their duties

15. Audit of accounts.—The members of the Audit Sub-Committee have audited the accounts for the whole year, and the Examiner of Local Accounts, Bengal, has audited up to December, 1915.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS FOR THE PORT OF CHITTAGONG FOR THE YEAR 1915-16.

No. 2363Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 17th October 1916.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Commissioners for the Port of Chittagong for the year 1915-16.

Receipts.—The ordinary receipts of the Port during the year 1915-16 amounted to Rs. 2,85,290 as against Rs. 1,98,437, the income of the preceding year. The estimate for the year was put at a low figure, viz., Rs. 2,17,297, on account of the anticipated fall of revenue in consequence of the war. The estimate was, however, a little higher than that of the year 1914-15 owing to the decision to enhance the rate of river dues from two to four annas per ton, and the mooring and unmooring charges by twenty-five per cent. as a war surtax. The enhanced rates were introduced from the 1st April 1915. The improvement of revenue was due mainly to the abnormal importation of Burma rice, the newly introduced license fees on flats and the increased number of country brigs that visited the Port. The total receipts including the annual assignment of Rs. 20,208 from the Burma Coast Light Dues Fund and the Government grant of Rs. 1,50,000 amounted to Rs. 4,55,498 as against Rs. 3,69,121 in the previous year.

Expenditure.—The ordinary expenditure of the Port Fund amounted to Rs. 4,62.184 as against Rs. 3,90,550 during the previous year, and Rs. 6,12,280 the estimate for the year. The difference between the estimate and the actual expenditure was due to economy under establishment, maintenance and repairs and works. Under the last head there was a saving of over Rs. 96,000 owing to a very small portion of the work of building a new hull for the Commissioners' S. T. "Gekko" having been done by the contractors during the year. There was a deficit on the year's working of Rs. 6,686 which was met from the opening balance.

The expenditure on capital works amounted to Rs. 1,49,169, of which the following were the principal items :—

	Rs.
(1) Acquisition of land connected with scheme to facilitate landing from coasting steamers ...	76,935
(2) Construction of steel pontoons with grabs ...	39,053
(3) Construction of a new hull for the S. T. "Gekko"	18,950

Assets and liabilities.—The assets of the Trust on the 31st March 1916 were estimated at Rs. 35,43,774 and the liabilities, excluding the Government loans for revetment work, at Rs. 1,07,258.

Dredging.—The dredger "Karnafuli I" was continuously at work during the year from the beginning of May 1915 to the end of January 1916. During the rest of the year she was laid up for repairs.

Outer bar.

An average least depth of 8′-10″ was maintained throughout the year over the main track, but for navigation purpose there was an average of 10′-0″ least water on the "D on drum" line.

Inner bar.

Dredging was confined to this bar as far as possible and was in operation during 127 days. A depth of 10′ at low water was maintained till the end of June. By the end of July the depth dropped to 7′-0″, the lowest since September 1914, when it was 6′-9″. A depth of 11′-0″ was obtained in November.

The necessity for the provision of a second dredger for the Port has been admitted, but the question of ways and means and of the most suitable type of dredger is under the consideration of the Government of India. Meanwhile at the request of that Government the Port Commissioners are collecting further data and making experiments on the lines suggested by Sir G. Buchanan.

Two small grab dredgers mounted on pontoons, the construction of which was sanctioned by Government in 1913, were completed and brought into use during the year. These dredgers are required to deal effectually with silt which accumulates against the piles of the railway jetties. Six inward-bound vessels and one outward-bound vessel were detained during the year for want of sufficient depth on the bars. The maximum number of days' delay was 9.

River survey.—A survey of the main river was completed during the year and new charts prepared.

Revetment.—Erosion was slight against the revetted portion of the river bank and was chiefly confined to the slope between khals 5 and 6. The area round about the by-channel has continued to silt up. The stone and earthen bunds are in good order.

Light houses.—The light houses at Kutubdia and Norman's Point were maintained in good order.

Light vessel.—There was no complaint regarding the exhibition of the lights. The total cost of maintaining the vessel during the year amounted to Rs. 23,881.

Shipping.—The total number of steamers and native craft that visited the Port during the year was 1,219 or 505 more than in the previous year. There was one shipping casualty, the sinking of the inland steam vessel "Hatiya". A special Court of Enquiry was appointed under section 31 of the Inland Steam-vessels Act, VI of 1884, to investigate the circumstances attending the casualty. The Court found the serang guilty of negligence, and his certificate was suspended for 12 months.

Trade.—The total value of sea-borne trade of the Port, both foreign and coasting, amounting to Rs. 863·86 lakhs, as against Rs. 740·66 lakhs in the previous year.

Sanitation.—The general health of the Port was good throughout the year.

Mr. J. Lang, Officiating Commissioner of the Chittagong Division, held the office of Chairman of the Commissioners from the beginning of the year under review up to end of June 1915. Mr. A. H. Clayton acted from then up to the 29th December 1915, when Mr. E. Geake took over the office and held it to the end of the year.

The thanks of Government are due to these officers and to the Commissioners for their efficient administration of the Trust.

The Governor in Council also desires to acknowledge the good services rendered to the Commissioners during the past 8½ years by Mr. W. H. Neilson who resigned the post of Port Engineer during the year.

By order of the Governor in Council,

C. P. WALSH,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR SEPTEMBER 1916.

I. Character of the season.—The rainfall during the month was in excess of the normal throughout the Province excepting in Bogra and Mymensingh. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Harvesting of autumn rice was over but that of jute was still going on in places. Transplanting of winter rice was almost finished; weeding was in progress everywhere, but the operation had to be suspended in certain tracts owing to heavy rains during the third week of the month. The preparation of lands for rabi crops commenced in a few districts only.

III. State of standing crops.—The condition of the standing crops was reported to be fairly satisfactory excepting in the flood-affected areas of Birbhum, Burdwan, Murshidabad, Midnapore and Dacca.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—The prospects of the winter rice crop were generally satisfactory, although the transplanting was commenced a little late this year; but they have been to some extent affected during the latter part of the month by the cyclone, excessive rainfall and floods.

V. Damage to standing crops.—Heavy rainfall early in the month injuriously affected the standing autumn paddy in parts of the 24-Parganas and Jessore. The cyclonic weather during the latter part of the third week damaged the standing crops in almost all the Western Bengal districts as well as in certain parts of the district of Bakarganj. Considerable damage is reported to have been done in the districts of Birbhum and Burdwan owing to the Adjai and Damodar being in flood. Some damage by floods was also reported from Dacca and Murshidabad.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of agricultural stock was satisfactory. The number of districts from which cattle-disease was reported during the month varied from 2 to 5.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—Fodder was scarce in parts of Jessore and Tippera.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month under review the prices of common rice rose in seven districts, fell in two and remained stationary in the rest. It varied from 10 seers per rupee in the Chittagong Hill Tracts to 6 seers 11 chitaks in Tippera.

IX. Condition of agricultural people.—The condition of agricultural people in Bankura has greatly improved, as a good crop of autumn paddy has been harvested in the district. The conditions have improved in Tippera also with the harvesting of the jute crop. Relief measures had to be taken for the distressed people in the flood-affected areas of Birbhum.

The increase during the week in Coaching is mainly in local passengers.

The decrease during the week in Goods is mainly in rice, iron and salt. The potato traffic showed improvement.

The traffic during this month was good and it is expected that when the actual audited earnings are made up for this half-year they will amount to nearly Rs. 7,00,000 instead of Rs. 6,60,000 as estimated in the previous month and Rs. 6,36,000 of the previous corresponding half-year.

The increase during the half-year is mainly in coaching (Local and Foreign passengers), i.e., about Rs. 50,000 in Passenger traffic, but there is a set off of about Rs. 10,000 in Parcel and Luggage traffic. The increase in goods is mainly in public coal, rice and potatoes. There is a decrease of Rs. 23,000 in building materials (iron, cement, &c.)

ADMINISTRATION REPORT ON THE HOWRAH BRIDGE FOR THE YEAR 1915-16.

No. 2412Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Calcutta, the 23rd October 1916.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Administration Report on the Howrah Bridge for the year 1915-16.

THE income of the Bridge amounted to Rs. 1,95,365 and the expenditure to Rs. 2,98,685 against Rs. 1,77,275 and Rs. 2,17,280, respectively, in the previous year. The deficit of Rs. 1,03,320 has been carried forward as a debit on Revenue Account, it being considered inexpedient to realize securities held by the Reserve Fund owing to the present unfavourable condition of the money market.

2. There was a marked increase in expenditure under the heads "Maintenance and Repairs of the Bridge", and "Miscellaneous Charges." The increase under the former head is attributable to the heavy expenditure on the repair of the Bridge Ferry Landing Stage on the Howrah side and on the maintenance of the roadway surface and footpaths. The increased expenditure on "Miscellaneous Charges" was chiefly due to payment of interest on the funds advanced by the Port Commissioners to the Bridge.

3. The receipts from railway goods traffic, which form the bulk of the revenue of the Bridge, amounted to Rs. 1,72,042 against Rs. 1,57,384 in 1914-15, an increase of Rs. 14,658. This revenue showed a falling-off in the years 1913-14 and 1912-13.

4. Having regard to recurring deficits in the Bridge accounts and to the increased expenditure necessary under the head "Maintenance and Repairs", a Committee was appointed by Government, under the orders contained in Resolution No. 1349Marine of the 5th May 1916, to consider and report on the best manner of improving the finances of the Bridge. The Committee's report has been received and is under consideration.

5. The number of vessels that passed through the Bridge during the year 1915-16 and four preceding years is shown below :—

	1915-16.	1914-15.	1913-14.	1912-13.	1911-12.
Sea-going vessels ...	80	75	87	93	93
Inland steamers and flats ...	2,704	2,422	2,887	2,996	2,600
Steam-tugs and steam-launches	897	805	569	670	613

Government steamers and flats	9	...	20	15	13
Total ...	3,729	3,373	3,607	3,837	3,424

6. The number of accidents during the year was 11 against 21 in the preceding year. Of these 9 were to cargo and passenger boats against 4 in 1914-15. In four cases boats were lost, and in one case two men were drowned.

7. The Bridge was opened on 307 occasions, of which 40 were during the day and 267 at night.

8. Proposals for providing a new bridge are awaiting expert examination. Meanwhile, as delay will be inevitable, the existing bridge is being strengthened.

By order of the Governor in Council.

REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE LICENSED JUTE WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE ACT, 1915-16.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2504M.—The 24th October 1916.—The following is published for general information.

L. S. S. O'MALLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. $\frac{\text{F.B. 49-15}}{479}$, dated Calcutta, the 12th June 1916.

From—B. A. WESTBROOK, ESQ., Chief Officer, Fire Brigade, Calcutta,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department (through R. Clarke, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.)

I HAVE the honour to present the following report on the working of the Fire Brigade for the financial year ended the 31st March 1916.

2. Financial Statement.—The statement of the receipts and expenditures, and payments made by the Municipalities within the jurisdiction of the Fire Brigade Act, I of 1893, is given in Appendix I.

3. Fires, etc.—The total number of fires, or supposed fires dealt with by the Fire Brigade during the year under review is 375, being an increase of 118 above the previous year, and resulting in :—

Fires 323 (244 in 1914-15), false alarms 42 (9 in 1914-15) and 10 calls for special service (3 in 1914-15).

Seventeen fires occurred in premises licensed under the Licensed Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act (I of 1893), as compared with 7 in the previous year. The nature of the trades requiring licenses under this Act are enumerated in Appendix XVII.

Summaries are given in the Appendix showing the districts in which fires or supposed fires occurred (Appendix III.)

The number of fires or supposed fires on every day and month throughout the year (Appendix IV.)

Daily and hourly summary of fires or supposed fires (Appendix V.)

The actual number of calls received by the Brigade during the year 1915-16 is 527, which figure includes several instances where more than one call was received for the same fire. The means by which these calls have been transmitted to the Brigade are given in Appendix II, in connection with which it is satisfactory to note the number of calls received through Street Fire Alarms since January 1916 when the majority of these instruments were connected.

The increase in the number of False Alarms was anticipated, but now that the Street Fire Alarms which have been installed are in proper working order, and the public are accustomed to these alarms, false alarms are satisfactorily decreasing in number.

4. Fire loss.—I am pleased to be able to report that the damage caused by fire and water is the lowest on record, being Rs. 5,02.699, notwithstanding the fact that the number of fires during this year has increased by 124 above the average for the past five years, the average loss per fire being Rs. 1,556 as compared with an average loss per fire of Rs. 5,999 for a similar period.

These satisfactory figures are attributable to the fact that few serious fires have occurred which in a great measure is due to the increase of promptness in giving information of fires to the Fire Brigade, and speedy arrival of the Brigade at the place of occurrence.

Summaries are given in the Appendix showing :—

Damage caused by fire, etc., in the various districts. (Appendix VI.)
Classification of fires and calls. (Appendix VII.)
Means by which fires were extinguished. (Appendix VIII.)
Causes of fires and buildings affected. (Appendix XV.)
Comparative statement for the past eight years. (Appendix XVIII.)

5. Fire Reports.—Short reports of all fires of Rs. 1,000 damage and upwards are given in Appendix IX.

6. Appliances.—Appendix X shows the present distribution of the principal appliances in use by the Brigade, and Appendix XI gives the number of times each appliance has been turned out in response to fire calls, with monthly figures, and the distance travelled.

It is estimated that motor appliances travelled 3,718 miles, and horse drawn appliances 489 miles during the year under review in responding to and returning from fire calls.

On the 25th December 1915 a 60 H. P. "Hatfield" Petrol Motor Fire Engine of 350 gallons per minute capacity was received and placed in commission, and has proved satisfactory.

Orders have been placed with Messrs. Leyland & Co., and Messrs. Merryweather & Sons, Ltd., for new motor Fire Engines, but owing to the war, delivery has not yet been effected.

Motor Fire Engine No. 3 has been sent to England for repairs and refitting, and owing to the above cause, has been absent the whole year. It is hoped that this machine will shortly be replaced in commission.

The remainder of the smaller appliances have been kept up to the required state of efficiency, and the usual boiler surveys have been made by the Government Inspectors, and certificates granted.

It is understood that an order has been placed by the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta with Messrs. Merryweather & Sons, Ltd., for an efficient fire-float, but owing to the war it has not yet been received.

This machine is badly needed, and it is hoped that it will soon arrive in Calcutta. The existing fire float "Hooghly" has done good work, but owing to insufficient power and pumping capacity, its capabilities are restricted. As mentioned in the Fire Brigade reports of 1913-14 and 1914-15, the fire float is not directly under the control of the Fire Brigade, therefore efficient working and co-operation cannot always be obtained, but during the past year valuable assistance has been rendered by the Port Commissioners both with the fire-float and the steam fire engine stationed at the Docks.

In the Budget for the year 1915-16 a sum was included for the provision of a Motor Lorry, but it was eventually decided that this amount should be augmented for the purpose of buying another Petrol Motor Fire Engine, that the Rotary pump on Motor Fire Engine No. 1 should be discarded, and this appliance converted into a lorry. This work has been carried out in the Fire Brigade Workshops and the lorry has proved to be of great use.

From experience gained at the numerous jute fires it is realised that the most effective method of dealing with this class of fire is by means of a large stream of water at high pressure, and therefore a Monitor with a 2-inch nozzle has been constructed, and used in conjunction with the lorry. It is capable of being rapidly shipped and unshipped and so does not interfere with the ordinary requirements for which the lorry was provided. It is anticipated that a powerful search-light will be fitted on this appliance which will undoubtedly be a great asset in promoting the efficient extinction of fires occur-

7. Fire Stations.—Appendix XII gives the number of times each station has been turned out in response to fire calls. together with monthly figures.

The Fire Brigade headquarters are still situated in premises temporarily hired from the Samavaya Corporation, Limited, in Corporation Place, and I regret I am unable to record progress in the provision of permanent headquarters. A suitable site was selected in Wellington Street and plans were prepared, but this land was ultimately required by the Calcutta Improvement Trust for the purpose of making a main thoroughfare in this locality.

It was found necessary to extend these present temporary headquarters, and the adjoining shop measuring 48 feet by 36 feet was hired at a rental of Rs. 280 per month. making in all a total rental of Rs. 1,607 per month for the headquarters. It is hoped that permanent headquarters will soon be built on a suitable site as the interest on the capital necessary for this purpose will effect a considerable saving.

The extra premises hired are used chiefly for workshops, and reserve appliances. In this connection it should be noted that practically the whole of the Fire Brigade Staff, Appliances and Plant have now been removed from Lal Bazar. When the Fire Brigade Headquarters were situated there no rent was paid or debited to the Fire Brigade Fund.

Owing to lack of space and accommodation at the present headquarters difficulty is experienced in training firemen, delay occurs in turning out and getting away from the station as the locality is congested, and a larger percentage of married quarters is required.

Although the stations at Howrah and Chitpore require remodelling and extending no important alterations have been carried out pending sanction of Government to the reorganisation scheme.

Hired premises are still occupied in Halliday Street which now ranks as one of the most important out-stations as it is situated in a district full of very serious fire risks. It is understood that the premises are required by the Calcutta Improvement Trust, and consequently will have to be vacated. It is therefore necessary to provide permanent buildings in this locality.

Out-stations are urgently required in the north and central portions of the City. and accordingly were recommended in the reorganisation report. Owing to the congestion of traffic and very narrow thoroughfares delay must occur before it is possible for the Fire Brigade to arrive at the scene of a fire in these districts. Fortunately any really serious fire has been prevented during the year under review, but the danger of a conflagration is present and should be guarded against.

Owing to the land on which the Bhowanipore Station stood being required by the Calcutta Improvement Trust this station has been abandoned. and the staff distributed amongst the other stations.

8. Staff.—The total strength of the Brigade is 221 as compared with 216 at the commencement of the year.

Three Indian telephone operators have been employed to relieve the European officers and men of this duty, also one additional temporary clerk and one additional mechanic have been sanctioned.

The distribution of the Staff is given in Appendix XIII.

The general conduct and discipline has been good. Necessarily many changes have taken place owing to a large number of men proceeding on active service. These changes have thrown a considerable amount of extra work upon the remainder of the men which, for patriotic reasons, they have willingly carried out.

The months of February and March were exceptionally busy, and the strain was severely felt by many of the officers and men, but I am pleased to be able to report that their work was good during this somewhat trying period as it was during the whole year.

As recorded in my reports of 1913-14 and 1914-15 difficulty is experienced in recruiting a sufficiently good class of Indian on the low pay at present offered for the arduous duties of firemen. Although the cost of living has increased in Calcutta during recent years the pay remains the same. The same remarks apply to the European Staff.

It is hoped that the Fire Brigade reorganisation scheme will soon be sanctioned and a scale of pay commensurate with the work will be adopted.

Three men have been granted certificates to drive and take charge of Motor Fire Engines, and five men have passed examinations in proficiency in the management and care of Steam Fire Engines.

9. Fatalities and Accidents.—Short details of fires and calls involving loss of life or accidents are given in Appendix XIV.

I regret to report that Indian Firemen Hujabber Khan (service 3 years and 8 months), Mir Kalayan (service 1 year and 5 months) and Mathulla Khan (service 11 months) met their deaths at a fire which occurred at Chaulputty Road, Belliaghatta, on 23rd December, 1915.

These men in conjunction with nine others were ordered to turn over a hay stack in which a fire had been practically extinguished. At about 4-30 A.M. an alarm was raised that four of these men were unconscious, and they were immediately removed from the top of the stack and artificial respiration commenced. Under this treatment Indian Fireman Shaik Ismail, recovered, but in the above cases life was found to be extinct. At the inquest the cause of death was found to be carbon monoxide poisoning, and it was surmised that the men took the opportunity of resting, and were consequently overcome by the fumes. The remainder of the men working on this stack were not affected.

The total fatalities including the above are 10, being an increase of one as compared with the previous year. Of these two were cases of suicide by burning, and two were killed and two injured owing to the collapse of a building (no fire).

On the 15th August 1915, an Indian woman was severely burned and subsequently died in hospital. Her husband was charged with voluntarily causing grievous hurt to his wife, convicted, and sentenced to three years' rigorous imprisonment.

The practice of pouring kerosene oil on to a fire to make it burn up appears to be prevalent, and has been the cause of numerous fires, and one death.

Clothing in contact with cooking stoves is responsible for one death.

Two persons were severely burned whilst working in a garage. They were filling the petrol tank of a motor-car in the neighbourhood of a naked light.

Many minor injuries have been attended to by members of the Brigade, a large percentage of whom are qualified in Ambulance work.

First-aid materials are carried on all appliances, and on many occasions have been of great use.

10. Horses.—Sixteen horses were in service at the commencement of the year. Two have died and one has been cast as unfit for further work. Three horses have been treated at the Bengal Veterinary College, of which two were discharged fit for duty, and one cast as above.

Three horses have been purchased, leaving a total of 16 at the close of the year.

It was anticipated that this number could have been reduced, but owing to the delay caused by the war in the delivery of the motor appliances on order it has not been found possible to do so. However it is probable that this anticipation will be realised during the forthcoming year.

11. Water-supply.—In several instances difficulty has been experienced in obtaining water for fire-extinguishing purposes, and consequently some fires have obtained serious proportions which might otherwise have been prevented. These remarks particularly apply to Howrah, Chitpur, Garden Reach and Maniktala where unfiltered water mains are still unprovided, and the filtered water mains are not fitted with fire hydrants. For the protection of these areas reliance has been placed on the ponds and tanks, but as these are now being filled up on sanitary grounds a serious state of affairs is accentuated, and fears are entertained that disastrous fires may result.

The water used for fire extinguishing is principally obtained from the unfiltered water mains, but owing to the comparative low pressure fire pumps have to be used to augment this pressure in a large percentage of cases.

Improvement of the mains and upkeep of hydrants continues and the Water Department men attached to the Fire Brigade have been useful in assisting to obtain a sufficient quantity of water.

The provision of duplicate sets of pumps for the unfiltered water system needs consideration as when the existing machinery has to be overhauled, flues cleaned, etc., the water has to be shut off, thus leaving parts of the City unprotected.

I am pleased to take this opportunity of thanking the officers of the Water Department of the Calcutta Corporation for their endeavours to improve the supply, and for their prompt attention to any complaints which have been made.

12. Street Fire Alarms, Telephones and Electrical Communications.—Considerable progress has been made in providing means for the rapid communication of alarms of fire to the Fire Brigade. In the budget estimate for the year under review provision was made for thirty street fire alarms, and on 4th December 1915 sanction was received from the Government of Bengal for the erection of an additional one hundred street fire alarms. There are also nine alarms at the Kidderpore Docks, and five at the Sir Stuart Hogg Market.

The majority of these alarms are now fitted, and it is anticipated that the remainder will shortly be erected and connected.

Good results have been obtained and undoubtedly in several cases serious fires have been prevented, mainly owing to the rapidity with which the Fire Brigade has received the call.

Appendix II shows by what means calls for fires have been transmitted to the Fire Brigade.

To facilitate the rapid turn-out of the fire appliances, and to prevent the possibility of mistaking the address of a fire, maps electrically connected to the Street Fire Alarms are provided at Headquarters, and so arranged that when a fire call is received from this system a small lamp glows behind the map in the position corresponding to that of the fire alarm operated. This arrangement has proved to be of considerable use especially as it is difficult to rapidly and rightly understand some of the Indian names given to streets.

The provision of direct fire telephones from special fire risks proceeds satisfactorily, and it is hoped that more of the sprinkler installations and automatic fire alarm systems will be connected up to the Fire stations nearest to the premises in which they are installed.

It is satisfactory to note that instances of delay in giving the alarm of fire to the Fire Brigade are gradually decreasing, but there still remains much to be done in connection with this.

My thanks are again due to the Bengal Telephone Company for their continued keen interest and efficiency in all matters appertaining to Fire Brigade work.

Appendix XVI gives the positions of Street Fire Alarms erected, and about to be erected.

13. Inspection Department. Theatres and Places of Public Amusement.—A considerable amount of work has been carried out in endeavouring to safeguard the public in theatres and places of public amusement, but I regret to report that the result is not satisfactory. The following extract from the "Report on Municipal Administration of Calcutta for the year 1914-15," describes some of the difficulties encountered :—"Owing to the apathy of the public, the defects of the law which provide for the most inadequate control over the equipment and management of theatres, and the difficulty in securing adequate punishment for theatre-owners who entertain their patrons under conditions which would not be allowed for a single night in most countries, the inertia which has to be overcome before theatres are improved is immense, but at last something is being done. It is at any rate no longer possible to find uninsulated live wires attached by the most crude appliances to highly inflammable canvas, nor will occupants of zenana galleries have to descend in case of emergency by steep staircases, unprovided with hand rails, but nevertheless the theatres of northern Calcutta are still a disgrace to the City."

With one exception only the owners of the European Theatres and Cinemas have practically carried out the requisitions made by the Inspection Department, but I regret that this is not the case with the large majority of Indian Theatres, and it is due only to strenuous exertions that the owners of such theatres have been induced to carry out minor and comparatively inexpensive improvements.

Unfortunately the bye-laws regulating places of public amusement are inadequate, both in the provision of safeguards from fire and panic, also the penalty clause, and many owners and lessees have no compunction whatever in infringing the same.

From a digest of the prosecutions and fines inflicted during the past two years it is found that during the year 1913-14, 293 prosecutions were instituted to enforce improvements and the fines amounted to an average of about two rupees thirteen annas (Rs. 2-13), and in the year 1914-15, 167 prosecutions were instituted and the fines averaged four rupees twelve annas (Rs. 4-12).

Notwithstanding the various difficulties in the way in enforcing improvements there certainly is a visible tendency to provide fire appliances, and carry out alterations as suggested for the purpose of preventing loss of life and injury and damage by fire.

It is hoped that the new bye-laws for the regulations of theatres and places of public amusement will shortly be approved and enforced. when no doubt adequate measures will be adopted and the various premises provided with safeguards commensurate with the risks involved.

14. General.—Much progress continues to be made in inspecting special fire risks, and as a result of such inspections which are regularly and systematically carried out the number of private appliances installed has considerably increased and many improvements effected in existing private fire plants.

On several occasions these precautions have enabled owners and employees to deal with fires without the assistance of the Fire Brigade, whilst in other cases, fires, which might otherwise have become serious, have been held in check until the arrival of the Fire Brigade.

It is hoped that any person desiring information or advice concerning the installation of fire preventative and protective devices will apply to the Fire Brigade for the same which is given gratis.

The work of the Inspection Department is rapidly increasing, and this department needs to be augmented, so that its beneficial effect will be more widely felt.

The inferior construction of many of the existing premises, and the lack of supervision of private fire appliances renders it imperative that more frequent inspections should be carried out, especially as this inferior type of building is not only liable to fire itself, but, being often situated in congested localities, constitutes a risk which may involve a whole district, particularly as many of the occupants of the premises entirely ignore their personal and moral responsibility.

Sprinkler systems continue to be found of particular value in jute godowns, and premises where highly inflammable goods are stored, and in many cases have averted serious fires, likewise fire-doors, party-walls and fire-resisting partitions have proved their efficiency. The desirability of direct telephonic communication to Fire Stations is urged, as in several cases of serious fires there has been considerable delay in calling the Fire Brigade.

During the year under review 4,728 inspections (exclusive of theatres and places of public amusement) have been carried out.

Three hundred and seventy-four applications for licenses (see Appendix XVII) and complaints referring to licenses have been investigated and reported upon.

Two hundred and twenty-one prosecutions have been instituted under sections 14 and 19 of the Licensed Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act (I of 1893) and have resulted in 151 persons being fined, 48 warned and discharged, 22 cases withdrawn, and 20 remained pending at the end of the year.

The total number of licenses recommended during the year under the Licensed Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act (I of 1893) was 1,664, including 168 fresh licenses.

Sixty-eight licenses were cancelled for non-payment of tax.

16. Fire-work licenses, etc.—During the year under review no licenses were granted for letting off fireworks under section 36, Act I of 1893.

One person has been prosecuted, convicted and fined for selling fireworks without license.

17. Jurisdiction.—The Calcutta Fire Brigade protects the Municipalities of Calcutta, Cossipore-Chitpur, Howrah, Garden Reach and Maniktala, no charge being made for the attendance of the Brigade in these areas.

Under Government Notification No. 1850 T. M. of 25th August 1906, the Fire Brigade may, at the discretion of the Chief Officer, attend any fire beyond the limits of the aforesaid Municipalities, and within a radius of six miles from the Fire Brigade Headquarters, provided the individual who requires the services of the Brigade enters into an undertaking to pay, or immediately pays such fees as provided by Government, given that in both of the above cases no call has been already made within the jurisdiction for the assistance of the Fire Brigade. The actual area protected is just over 113 square miles, and the population included in the same is over 1½ millions.

The question of extending the jurisdiction of the Brigade has received consideration, and at the meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council of 27th March 1916, the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray, asked :—

"(a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to a recent case of fire in the Khurda Jute Mills, and the inability of the Calcutta Fire Brigade to render any help on account of a rule which restricts its operation to a radius of six miles from the Central Fire Station?"

"(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of modifying the rules in order to bring the mills on both sides of the River Hooghly up to Naihati on the east and Telinipara on the west of that river within the scope of the Calcutta Fire Brigade?"

The Hon'ble Mr. De in reply said :—

"(a) Information was received by the Calcutta Fire Brigade on the evening of 3rd March 1916, that a fire had broken out at the Khurda Jute Mill. The Fire Brigade were unable to send appliances as the fire was a considerable distance beyond the radius of six miles within which they are authorised to attend, under Notification No. 1850 T. M., dated 25th August 1906. The Chief Officer, a Station Officer and twelve khallassies visited the scene of the fire during the night."

"(b) Government have under consideration the revision of the rules framed from time to time under section 31 of the Licensed Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act and will be prepared to sanction the extension of the radius of the Calcutta Fire Brigade so far as is possible without disproportionate increase in capital and recurring expenditure. They are advised that with due regard to these considerations there is little chance of the radius being extended at present to the limits suggested by the Hon'ble Member. The outlying mills must look for protection against fire to the efficiency of their own fire drill and appliances."

The class of fire (i. e., jute mills and godowns) which is likely to occur in the proposed extended radius is of a serious nature, and in practically every case would necessitate the attendance for many hours of two or more fire engines and a proportionate number of men. Having due regard to the efficient protection of the jurisdiction proper, these machines and men cannot be spared, however with a view to reducing the damage by fire in the outlying districts, advice will be given on every branch of fire prevention and protection, and where possible men will be trained in getting to work smartly with private fire appliances.

18. Tournament and Exhibition.—In the presence of His Excellency Lord Carmichael, Governor of Bengal, and a large company of distinguished visitors, on 27th November 1915, a Fire Brigade Exhibition and Tournament was held. It was decided to make a charge for admission, the proceeds to be given to "Lady Carmichael's War Relief Fund" and the Calcutta Fire Brigade had the pleasure of handing to this Fund a sum of Rs 3,106 (£207-1-4).

19. Map.—It is customary to append to this Annual Report a map showing where fires have taken place, and the positions of Fire Stations, Street Fire Alarms etc., but this year for the sake of economy it has been omitted.

A copy is available at the Fire Brigade Headquarters and can be seen at any time.

20. Ambulance Service.—I am pleased to be able to report that during the year under review a Motor Ambulance Service has been organised and is now doing efficient and useful work in Calcutta.

A 16 H. P. "Sunbeam" Motor Ambulance was purchased by the St. John Ambulance Association with contributions raised voluntarily, and presented to the Municipality of Calcutta. The cost of running and upkeep is paid by the Municipality and Government of Bengal in the proportions of two-thirds and one-third, respectively.

Two drivers have been permanently employed and pending the appointment of permanent attendants, the Indian Firemen do this duty, for which they receive a small monetary allowance.

The Motor Ambulance is available at all times free of charge whether engaged in removing patients to or from Hospitals, Nursing Homes, etc., or attending street accidents, the only restriction being that it must not be used for infectious cases. The first call was responded to on 26th January 1916, and 52 cases have been dealt with up to the end of the financial year (31st March 1916). The time occupied in attending calls and removing patients was 82 hours 17 minutes, and 257½ miles were travelled.

As the availability of this Ambulance is becoming more generally known, the calls are increasing in number, and provision is being made for the purchase of more machines, which will include one solely for the purpose of dealing with infectious cases, and it is hoped that by the prompt removal of such patients the results of epidemics may be minimised.

APPENDIX I.

Statement showing Receipts and Expenditure of the Fire Brigade for 1915-16.

THE year opened with a balance of Rs. 86,153-2, the receipts amounted to Rs. 2,47,098-12-3, and the total expenditure to Rs. 2,48,441-7-11, leaving a balance of Rs. 84,810-6-4 at the close of the year.

Receipts.

Fees under Petroleum Act show an increase of Rs. 171 over the estimate. No fees for letting off fireworks were credited during the year.

Expenditure.

Under head "Establishment" there was a decrease of Rs. 2,168-13-7 due mainly to leave vacancies.

The total expenditure under head "Contingencies" amounted to Rs. 1,53,968-5-6 against a budget grant of Rs. 2,22,186, showing a decrease of Rs. 68,217-10-6; the savings include the sum of Rs. 46,800 provided in the budget for the purchase of combined appliances, including fire escapes, first-aid cylinders and pumps, a motor tender, etc., which remained unexpended at the close of the year in consequence of the delay in manufacture of the machines in England owing to the war.

Under head "Other charges" there was a decrease of Rs. 1,735 due mainly to less expenditure under head "Water Pressure."

No. 93 G.—M., dated the 10th June 1916.

From—PRINCE M. DILWARJAH BAHADUR, Vice-Chairman, Garden Reach Municipality,

To—The Magistrate of the 24-Parganas.

WITH reference to your letter No. M 358-1-16 of the 2nd instant I have the honour to report as follows on the working of the Licensed Jute Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act in this municipality for the year 1915-16 and to submit statements I and II in the prescribed form.

2. During the year under report the total income from jute warehouse fees and from rates under section 25(b) of the Fire Brigade Act, as shown in Statement I was Rs 2,897-5-10 as compared with Rs 3,098-3 in the previous year. The amount of contribution paid to the Fire Brigade Fund was Rs. 6.138 against Rs. 6,074 in 1914-15.

In levying the jute warehouse fees the limitations prescribed by the provisos under section 10 of the Fire Brigade Act were strictly followed.

3. The rates at which the fees were levied were 7 per cent. on the annual value of all large warehouses, 10 per cent. on the annual value of wood and straw depôts and ½ per cent. on the annual value of all busti lands with huts, if any, on them. A list of licensed warehouses within this municipality during the year under review is given in Statement II.

COPY, with copies of the enclosures, forwarded to the Divisional Commissioner for information.

No. 615G., dated Howrah, the 9th June 1916.

From—THE HON'BLE BABU MAHENDRA RAY, M.A., B.L., C.I.E. Chairman of the Howrah Municipality,

To—The Magistrate of Howrah.

WITH reference to your letter No. 661G., dated the 20th May 1916, regarding the submission of the report on the working of Licensed Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act for the year 1915-16, I have the honour to submit two statements prescribed in Government letter No. 1385T.M., dated the 27th May 1910, and to say that the statements do not require any special comment.

The current collections during the year under review amounted to 86 per cent. of the current demand and the arrear collections to 46·3 per cent. of the arrear demand as against 88·5 per cent. and 20 per cent. of the previous year.

The contribution of the Municipality towards the Fire Brigade Fund continued to be 11 per cent. of the total expenditure budgetted for by the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta. But as this contribution has by Government order No. 1178M., dated the 28th March 1916, been raised to 14 per cent. of the total expenditure, the Commissioners of this Municipality raised by resolutions passed at meetings held on the 9th July 1915 and the 17th March 1916, the rates leviable under section 10 of the Fire Brigade Act. The enhanced rates are as follows:—

Jute and wood	...	6 per cent.	Hemp	...	6 per cent.
Cotton	...	5 ,,	Other inflammable articles		2 ,,

The proviso to section 10 of the Fire Brigade Act I of 1893 has been followed; about half the contribution of the Municipality came from the General Revenue Fund of the Commissioners.

No. 681T.M.—The 24th October 1916.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), the Governor in Council makes the following rules subject to which the Commissioners of the Chittagong Municipality may allow communication-pipes to be laid down from the service pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to premises for domestic purposes only:—

Chittagong.

Rules for the grant to private premises of house-connections for domestic purposes in the Chittagong Municipality.

So long as the Commissioners deem it practicable and consistent with the maintenance of an efficient water-supply, they may allow the owner or occupier of any holding paying a water-rate imposed under the provisions of Part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, on the annual value of such holding, when such annual value is not less than Rs. 60, or such higher amount as may be fixed from time to time by the Commissioners at a meeting, to lay communication-pipes from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to such holding for domestic purposes only, subject to the following rules and conditions:—

1. The owner or occupier of any holding requiring water to be laid on to such holding for domestic purposes, or requiring any addition or alteration to an existing water-supply, must apply for the same on a printed form to be supplied free of cost at the Municipal office; and work must be commenced within three months from the date of sanction, failing which the sanction shall be deemed to be withdrawn, and a fresh application and sanction shall be required.

2. Before any work is commenced every such owner or occupier must pay to the Commissioners a sum of Rs. 50 to cover the cost of testing and inspection, or such other fee as the Commissioners in meeting may from time to time direct, under section 301 of the Act, for each new connection, and also a fee of Rs. 5 per Rs. 100 on the cost of each addition to, or alteration in, an existing connection, such fees to be in addition to all other costs and charges imposed under these rules.

3. The work required may, at the option of the Commissioners, either be carried out by the Commissioners themselves at the expense of the owner or occupier of the holding in respect of which the work is required, or may be carried out by a person or firm employed by such owner or occupier and approved by the Commissioners.

4. (1) The owner or occupier of the holding in respect of which the connection is required must bear the entire cost thereof, including the cost of the supply and fixing of the fittings referred to in rule 9.

(2) The applicant for the connection will also be liable for the cost of such alterations in, or repairs to, roads, drains, sewers, gas or water-mains, or pipes, and the cost of such other works as may be necessitated by, or result from, the work of making such connection, and also all charges for which the Commissioners may become liable in respect of any of the matters referred to in this sub-rule.

5. The owner or occupier of the holding to which a connection has been given must, on receipt of notice to do so from the Commissioners, pay the entire cost of any repairs or alterations to the connection or any part thereof that the Commissioners may consider necessary to put it into a satisfactory condition or which may be necessitated by any change to the municipal water-works or system of distribution, or by the defective condition of the connection or any part thereof, or by any other cause whatever:

Provided that this rule shall not apply to repairs or alterations which are required to be made after any testing and inspection under rule 2, and it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioners that such testing or inspection was defective.

6. Except as provided below, each holding must have a separate connection to the municipal main supply-pipe, and extensions from the communication-pipe of one holding to another holding shall not be permitted:

Provided that, with the consent of the Commissioners in meeting, connections to two or more holdings may be permitted from a common communication-pipe. Any such communication-pipe must be laid in a street or common passage, and a stop-cock and meter, as provided for in rule 9 hereof, must be fixed on the connection to each holding;

Provided also that no holding shall have more than one separate connection, but if in any case the Commissioners are satisfied that an adequate supply to any holding cannot be given through a single connection, they may sanction a second connection thereto.

7. Every connection with municipal water-mains must be made under the supervision of an officer appointed by the Commissioners in this behalf, and no such connection shall be made except at such time as may be appointed and in such position as may be selected by an authorized municipal officer.

8. No connection shall be allowed to the rising main except with the permission of the Commissioners at a meeting.

9. A holding connection shall comprise the following parts or fittings:—

(a) a brass or gunmetal ferrule inserted in the main supply-pipe;

(b) a galvanized-iron communication-pipe from the ferrule to the meter;

(c) a stop-cock and its surface-box;

(d) a meter:

(e) service-pipes from the stop-cock to the taps; and

(f) taps.

10. All the fittings referred to in rule 9 shall be exact duplicates of standard samples kept in the office of the Commissioners and approved by them in meeting.

11. All fittings shall be inspected and tested and stamped by an officer of the municipality before being fixed.

12. If any owner or occupier shall desire to adopt any fitting of a pattern different from the standard patterns, he must present such fitting for the approval of the Chairman; and any fittings so presented may, if considered satisfactory by the Chairman, be stamped, and samples thereof may be purchased and placed among the standard fittings.

13. The size of the ferrule and the diameter of the communication-pipe referred to in clauses (a) and (b) of rule 9 and the number of taps should be fixed in accordance with the annual valuation of holdings as follows:—

Annual valuation of holding.	Size of ferrule.	Diameter of communication-pipe.	Number of taps.
Under Rs. 200 ...	$\frac{1}{4}$"	$\frac{1}{2}$"	2
From Rs. 200 to 499	$\frac{3}{8}$"	$\frac{5}{8}$"	3
" Rs. 500 to 799	$\frac{1}{2}$"	$\frac{3}{4}$"	4
" Rs. 800 to 1,199	$\frac{5}{8}$"	$\frac{7}{8}$"	5
" Rs. 1,200 to 1,999	$\frac{5}{8}$"	$\frac{7}{8}$"	6
" Rs. 2,000 to 3,000	$\frac{3}{4}$"	1"	7

Over Rs. 3,000—One additional tap for every additional Rs. 1,000 in the annual valuation of the holding:

Provided that though the communication-pipe shall not ordinarily be more than $\frac{1}{4}$" larger in diameter than the ferrule, yet the Engineer may, under special circumstances, fix the sizes of the communication-pipe with reference to the length of the pipe and the prevailing pressure.

14. The holding connection, when fitted in position, must be capable of standing a pressure of 125 feet; and no water shall be supplied until this test has been applied in the presence of an officer appointed by the Commissioners to inspect such fittings.

15. (a) On every communication-pipe, a brass or gunmetal stop-cock, having the same waterway as such pipe, shall be placed as near as practicable to the point where that pipe enters the holding.

(b) The stop-cock shall be built in a brick chamber provided with a surface-cover box so designed that it can be locked, and the key of this box shall remain under the control of the Chairman.

(c) The stop-cock shall be capable of adjustment so that the supply to the holding may be regulated thereby.

16. (a) The meter shall be placed as near to the stop-cock as possible and in a position where it can be conveniently examined.

(b) The meter must be fixed in a brick chamber covered over with a surface-box of approved pattern.

17. Neither the stop-cock nor the meter must be placed in any private premises.

18. The Commissioners shall depute an authorized person to read every meter not less than once a quarter, and shall give notice to the occupier at least twenty-four hours before the reading is recorded.

19. Every tap shall be of the same size as the pipe to which it is attached, and shall be of brass and of the pattern known as screw-down, or of such other pattern as may from time to time be approved by the Commissioners at a meeting. Every tap shall, except with the special permission of the Commissioners, be at least three feet above the surface of the ground beneath.

20. No communication-pipe or service-pipe shall be laid along or adjacent to any drain or water-course, or in any place where, in the opinion of the Engineer, there is risk or likelihood of the water in such pipe becoming contaminated.

21. Whenever a communication-pipe has to be laid across a sewer or open drain, or in any place where, in the opinion of the Engineer, it is liable to injury, such pipe must be passed through a cast-iron pipe of sufficient length and strength to afford due protection.

22. No cistern, tank or reservoir of any description, which is intended to be supplied with water from the municipal water-works, shall be permitted to any holding except with the sanction of the Commissioners in meeting, and such sanction shall distinctly specify the dimensions and capacity of the cistern, tank or reservoir allowed. The inlet to every such cistern, tank or reservoir must be controlled by an efficient ball-cock so that the discharge thereinto is completely stopped when the cistern, tank or reservoir is full. Any tap fed from such cistern, tank or reservoir must be included in the number of taps allowed under rule 13.

23. (1) Every owner or occupier of any holding in respect of which a connection has been made under these rules shall be entitled to a supply of—

(a) three thousand gallons of water per quarter for each rupee, and (b) a proportionate number of gallons per quarter for every fraction of a rupee, paid by him quarterly as water-rate in respect of such holding.

(2) For all water in excess of the amount allowed under sub-rule (1) such owner or occupier shall be charged quarterly as follows :—

	Per 1,000 gallons. As.
For any excess quantity of water not exceeding 50 per cent. of the amount of the allowance prescribed in sub-rule (1)
For any excess quantity of water exceeding 50 per cent. of the amount of the allowance prescribed in sub-rule (1), but not exceeding that amount ...	12
For any excess quantity of water exceeding the amount of the allowance prescribed in sub-rule (1) ...	16

24. The Commissioners may cut off the connection between any water-works of the municipality and any holding to which water is supplied from such works, or may turn off such supply in any of the following cases namely :—

(a) If the holding is unoccupied.
(b) If the occupier refuses to admit any officer duly empowered in that behalf into the holding for the purpose of making any examination or inspection authorized under this Act, or under any bye-law or rule framed under this Act, or prevents such officer from making such examination or inspection.

(c) If the owner or occupier of the holding touches or interferes with his meter in any way except with the permission of the Chairman, or wilfully or negligently injures or damages it.

(d) If the owner or occupier of the holding wilfully or negligently permits waste of water in such volume as will, in the opinion of the Chairman, endanger the water-supply in the neighbourhood.

(e) If the owner or occupier of any holding which is supplied with water under these rules shall refuse or neglect to pay any of the fees or charges imposed in accordance with these rules for a space of fourteen days after he has been served with a notice of demand for the same.

(f) If the owner or occupier of the holding constructs or fixes any cistern, tank, reservoir, taps, pipes or any other works in connection with the water-supply not authorized by these rules.

(g) If the pipes, taps, ball-cocks, cisterns, or any other parts of the connection are, in the opinion of the Commissioners, in a leaking condition or a state of disrepair :

Provided that such disconnection or turning off of water-supply shall not relieve any person from any liabilities which he may have incurred under these rules.

In the circumstances contemplated in clause (d), an officer authorized by the Commissioners in this behalf by a general order shall have the power to turn off the supply for a period not exceeding eight hours, on his previously recording his reason in writing.

25. In all cases in which disputes arise as to the size or quality of pipes or fittings, or in which these rules do not apply, an appeal against an order of the Chairman or Engineer, as the case may be, shall lie to the Commissioners in meeting, whose decision shall be final, provided that no appeal shall lie against an order passed under rule 24, unless and until such order has been complied with.

26. No connection shall be allowed to any holding unless the Engineer is satisfied that such holding is provided with means of efficient drainage for waste water.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE LAND REVENUE ADMINISTRATION OF THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1915-16.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

LAND REVENUE.

DARJEELING, THE 24TH OCTOBER 1916.

RESOLUTION—No. 1827T.—R.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Land Revenue Administration of the Presidency of Bengal for the year 1915-16.

THE Hon'ble Mr. C. J. Stevenson-Moore, C.V.O., held charge of the office of Member of the Board of Revenue from 1st April to 9th July 1915, and the Hon'ble Mr. F. J. Monahan for the rest of the year.

2. General conditions of the year.—The material condition of the people was on the whole not very satisfactory. With the rise in the price of jute there was some improvement in the condition of the cultivating classes except in certain parts of the province, where distress prevailed on account of drought or floods, notably in the districts of Bankura, Tippera, Mymensingh and Noakhali. The failure of crops was most serious in the district of Bankura, where the distress was acute during the latter part of the year. The measures taken to relieve the distress in the four districts named above included the opening of relief-works and the grant of gratuitous relief and of advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act and the Land Improvement Loans Act. The total amounts advanced under these Acts during the year were Rs. 15,78,340 and Rs. 1,65,762, respectively, of which the greater part was advanced in these four districts.

The tea industry was in a very flourishing condition during the year and the outturn of jute was fairly good, while the coal-mining industry in the district of Burdwan was adversely affected by the war in the early part of the year.

3. Land Revenue demand and collection.—The current demand was Rs. 2,76,02,163, the increase of Rs. 2,34,632 over the previous year being due mainly to new settlements, re-settlements and progressive increase of demands in temporarily settled and Government estates. The total collections amounted to Rs. 2,78,14,846, being 100·97 per cent. of the current demand and 93·82 per cent. of the total demand. Of the total remissions amounting to Rs. 73,727 granted during the year, the major portion was allowed in estates held direct by Government.

4. Road and Public Works Cesses.—The current cess demand showed an increase of Rs. 2,13,488, due to valuations and revaluations and to the annual revision of the assessment of mines. The percentage of total collections on the current demand rose from 96·9 to 100·6, and 14 districts against 3 in the previous year attained the standard of 100 per cent. on the current demand.

Valuations or revaluations, partial or complete, were made in 11 districts out of the 25 districts to which the Act applies and were completed in 7. In the districts of Dacca, Faridpur, Rajshahi, Jalpaiguri and Noakhali revaluation operations were conducted by the Settlement Department. Revaluations on an extensive scale under the ordinary procedure were completed in Khulna. The question of the modification of the special procedure for making cess revaluations simultaneously with the preparation of the record-of-rights is still under the consideration of this Government. In connection with valuations, it is reported by the Board that the approximate gross rental of the province now stands at 12 crores of rupees. It is interesting to note that the total sum paid as land revenue and as the landlords' share of cesses is about 3 crores of rupees. It follows that the gross income of the landlords of all grades is 9 crores. Their nett income, after deducting collection expenses, may be placed at 8 crores.

5. Revenue money-orders.—There was a decrease in the number of special money-orders issued during the year for remittance of land revenue and cesses, due to the introduction of a combined form of money-order for remittance of both land revenue and cesses, while the amount covered by the money-orders increased from Rs. 18,04,024 to Rs. 19,79,301.

6. Coercive measures.—The number of estates which defaulted in the payment of land revenue and became liable to sale was 12,498, or over 1,200 less than that of the previous year. Only 1,087 estates were actually sold. The number of certificates filed, inclusive of those on account of cess, was 96,639 against 95,644 in the preceding year. There was a decrease in the number of revenue certificates which was shared by many districts and was due to various local causes, while the cess certificates showed an increase chiefly in the 24-Parganas, Faridpur and Chittagong. The number of cases pending at the close of the year shows an increase over that in the previous year. In the majority of cases payments were made on the issue of notices or on attachment of property, and it was necessary to resort to actual sale in only 3,954 cases, or 4·3 per cent. of 90,431 cases disposed of during the year.

7. Condition of the raiyats in Government estates and expenditure on improvements and education.—Except in the areas affected by excessive rainfall and by floods, the condition of the tenants was on the whole satisfactory. The total number of estates under direct management, including those of private individuals managed by Government, was 2,272, with a current demand of Rs. 41,88,602. A sum of Rs. 78,002 was spent on miscellaneous and sanitary improvements, more than half being devoted to drainage, irrigation and embankments. The expenditure on education amounted to Rs. 65,851. There were 2,293 schools attended by 76,570 pupils in the Government estates of the Presidency. The expenditure on roads and communications in Government estates amounted to Rs. 3,07,305, of which Rs. 69,559 were paid out of the Government 1½ per cent. grant, the balance being met from local funds.
